Bliss Dismisses Top Aide For Breaking Into Desk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss has dismissed his top aide and long-time friend, William Cody Kelly, for violating "standards which I have established for my staff."

"There can be no deviation from these standards," Bliss said Wednesday after GOP Finance Director Frank J. Kovac had accused Kelly and three other national committee aides of breaking open his desk last Friday night.

Kovac said he had told Bliss about it Monday.

The finance director said if the committee assistants were looking for evidence that he is aligned with Barry Goldwater's new Free Society Association — an organization criticized by Bliss as a splinter group — they were disappointed.

"I told you," he wrote Bliss, "about the forcible entry into my locked desk by William Cody Kelly, Jim Baker and two other accomplices.

"This affront to my constitutional rights was perpetrated at about 9:30 to 11 p.m., Friday night, June 18." Kovac write. "Messrs. McAllister and Stange were parties to this invasion."

James Baker is an administrative assistant to Bliss. Robert McAllister an employe of the GOP Field Division, and Melvin Stange the chairman's chauffeur.

Bliss announced no steps against them. A spokesman said he was still investigating the incident. None of the four men could be reached for comment.

Bliss said he had sought and got Kelly's resignation after a complaint "relating to an inci-

Ohio Supreme Court To Review Libel Case

The Ohio Supreme Court has agreed to review the dismissal by lower courts in Columbiana County of a $1.1 million libel suit by the Schnell Tool and Die Corp. and the Salem Stamping and Manufacturing Co. against the United Steelworkers Union.

The suit was based on an account of labor negotiations in 1962 published by The Salem News in which Ormond Long, union local president, assertedly said skilled company workers received pay for lower than the general scale.

The union claimed the Labor Relations Board had sole jurisdiction in the matter.

U.S. Planes Again Blast Red Target

Attack Ammunition Depot In Flight Above 'Hanoi Line'

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Forty-six American planes flew north of the "Hanoi line" again today to blast at an ammunition depot in North Viet Nam, U. S. military spokesmen announced.

The planes — 12 Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs, eight F4C Phantoms and 26 escorts — again hit the Ban Nuoc Chieu ammunition depot 80 miles west northwest of Hanoi, the spokesmen said. American planes hit the same target on Tuesday.

After the raid today, pilots reported 22 buildings destroyed and seven others damaged by 45 tons of 750-pound bombs and rockets, the spokesmen said. The strike lasted about 40 minutes.

The spokesmen said no antiaircraft fire was reported and no enemy planes were sighted. All the American planes returned safely, they said.

The weather was clear during the strike, the spokesmen added.

Military officials announced that a U. S. Air Force B57 Canberra bomber was lost Tuesday on another strike over North Viet Nam.

They said the plane went down about 25 miles southwest of Vinh and that the two men aboard were missing.

In other raids on North Viet Nam today, eight A4 Skyhawks from the carrier Midway attacked the Vinh Son supply depot about 150 miles south of Hanoi, spokesmen said, but "damage assessment was undetermined."

U. S. Navy and Air Force planes made four other strikes over a 65-mile area in North Viet Nam, U. S. spokesmen said. The pilots reported moderate to heavy damage to bridges, barges, roads and ferry installations.

Ground was broken Wednesday for a new multi-million-dollar continuous casting plant at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Representatives of area industry, government, labor and education were guests during the ceremonies.

The ground - breaking followed a meeting of Crucible's Board of Directors at Midland. The directors then attended the ground - breaking, where Joel Hunter, Crucible president, spoke briefly, and afterward inspected recently completed facilities in the plant.

Friendship Pretended, Do Asserts

Foreign Minister States It's Only Political Protest

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam's military government announced today it has broken diplomatic relations with France and accused the French government of helping its enemies.

"France pretends to be a friend but isn't," Foreign Minister Tran Van Do told a news conference.

"The De Gaulle government has always directly or indirectly helped our enemies, so the Vietnamese government thus severs relations with France and all future matters will be handled by their consulates."

"We take note of their decision," a French government spokesman said in Paris. He added that he doubted there would be any further government comment.

The foreign minister said the break in relations was intended only as a political protest against France's policy toward South Viet Nam and would not affect some 7,000 French nationals living in South Viet Nam or Vietnamese citizens living in France.

Do said there would be no seizure of French property or other reprisals.

French interests control large rubber plantations in South Viet Nam and have other investments.

A few minutes earlier the government announced that it had declared an official state of war in South Viet Nam. Do said severance of relations with France was a necessary result.

"Up to now we have wanted to prove to the world that we were mature and ready to forget one century of French colonial domination, to look to the future, destroying communism and building the nation," he said.

"But in view of the decisive war we are now fighting, we cannot allow those who claim to be our friends to take advantage of us."

Relations between France and her former colony have grown increasingly strained since President Charles de Gaulle began outspoken opposition to American participation in the war against the Viet Cong and advocacy of a negotiated settlement neutralizing South and North Viet Nam.

Court Rules 2 Cities May Collect Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A resident of one city who works in another is subject to the municipal income taxes of both cities, the Ohio Supreme Court ruled Wednesday.

The high court held that each city has a right to levy an income tax, regardless of whether an individual may be subject to two taxes.

The unanimous decision reversed lower courts of Hamilton County, which ruled that Cincinnati could collect its 1 per cent income tax from Jack Thompson, an employe of Cincinnati Union Terminal Co., Cincinnati, but that suburban Loveland, where he lives, could not levy a similar tax on him.

Crucible Sets Vacation Pay

$2,328,000 Tops Last Year's Amount

Vacation pay this year for production and maintenance employes of Crucible's Midland Works will be approximately $2,328,000, of which $1,350,000, after tax deductions, will be paid next Monday and Tuesday, Guy F. McCracken, works manager, has announced.

Total vacation pay this year is approximately $223,000 greater than last year.

Already during 1965 the company has paid in weekly disbursements a total of $728,000 for gross vacation earnings due employes who took vacations during the first six months.

On Monday, checks will be disbursed by foremen during the three turns. The regular payday procedure will be followed. Checks will be payable the following day.

Eligible employes who do not obtain their checks on the job may be paid Tuesday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the 12th St. pay line office, McCracken said. After that, checks will be available at the cashier's office in the main office building on Midland Ave., daily from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Employes who become eligible for vacation due to anniversary dates occurring after July 2, will be paid in the pay period following the pay period in which they become eligible.

$45 Billion Defense Bill Passed By House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Without a dissenting vote, the House has passed a $45,188,244,000 Defense Department appropriation bill. Republicans predicted that an extra $1 billion soon would be needed to finance the war in Viet Nam.

A 407-0 roll-call tally sent the bill to the Senate Wednesday after a listless discussion that prompted one member to note that each representative present would get about $2 billion if the money was split among those on the floor.

18 Are Elected To Board Of Hancock Action Group

Eighteen were elected to the Board of Directors of the Hancock County Community Action Council at a stormy session Wednesday night at the Weirton Community Center.

Despite an appeal from Leonard Salerno, chairman, for nonpartisan cooperation, the meeting was marked by clashes between rival groups within the Democratic party.

The meeting, attended by 144 who paid the annual membership fee of $1, lasted until midnight.

Tabulation of ballots for board members, which required 90 minutes, was handled by three Weirton pastors who disagreed on the tabulation for a 19th post which remained unfilled.

Named to the board from Grant District were Vern Robinson, Mayor Harry Abrams of Chester, Russell Slack, principal of Oak Glen High School, and Arnie Durham, chief deputy sheriff. Elected from Clay District were Robert Shuman, Robert Harris, Mrs. Audrey Litman and County Commissioner Jack Evans. The others are from Butler District.

The 19th post lies between County Commissioner William C. Graham of Chester and State Sen. William Tompos of Weirton.

After the tabulating committee reported, it was decided because of the late hour to postpone recounting of the ballots.

The Council then approved a motion to turn the ballots over to the new board and provided that the canvass will be limited to the unresolved position.

Salerno, who has been responsible for launching the Council movement in the county, said it had been decided at an earlier meeting that Oliver Johnson, county extension agent, and John Casey, manager of the Weirton office of the West Virginia Department of Employment Security, automatically would become members of the board.

The 21 - member board will appoint an advisory committee to set up programs under the federal Economic Opportunity Act.

The session began with a printed ballot listing 19 names offered by the nominating committee, which included Durham, Mrs. Claudius Ford of Clay District, Salerno and two other Weirton residents.

Edward A. Zagula, county Democratic chairman, demanded from the floor. Five names were offered on the first round and 10 more were nominated on the second round.

However, the voting favored 16 of the 19 names on the printed ballot. Evans and Mayor Frank Rybka of Weirton were elected, although their names were not on the ballot.

Commissioner Graham's name was on the ballot, but Sen. Tompos' was not.

John B. Camilli, deputy state tax commissioner from Weirton, protested the final results, declaring the election should have been postponed so that all of the nominations could be placed on a printed ballot.

Salerno said the Council is in a position to sponsor many projects aimed at the war on pov-

Jury Acquits Maloney Of Tax Evasion

PITTSBURGH — Lawrence J. Maloney, suspended assistant superintendent of city police, Wednesday night was acquitted by a federal jury of charges of income tax evasion.

The jury indicated by its verdict it disbelieved the testimony of five racketeer witnesses that Maloney was paid bribes for racket protection.

The jury of eight men and four women delivered the verdict after deliberating almost 17 hours after receiving the two-week-old case.

Senate Group Okays Health Care Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee approved today the bill establishing a broad health care program for persons over 65 and raising Social Security payments for 20 million Americans.

The 12-5 vote sent the $6-billion bill to the Senate floor for expected passage in July.

It was the first time the committee had been willing to approve a health care for the aged program tied into the Social Security system. Last year it rejected such a move 11-6.

Four Butler Golfers Killed By Lightning

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—Lightning hit a golf course shelter during a driving rainstorm Wednesday and killed four of 10 men who had sought refuge. The other six were injured.

The dead: John Katryck, 52, Andrew W. Dobda, 46, Allen C. Pollack, 51, and Eugene S. Harman, 55.

All were residents of Butler and employes of the Armco Steel Corp., which uses the golf course as an employe recreation area.

Robert P. Hindman, manager of Armco's Butler plant, immediately suspended all activities at the course. He said:

Four Butler Golfers Killed By Lightning

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—Lightning hit a golf course shelter during a driving rainstorm Wednesday and killed four of 10 men who had sought refuge. The other six were injured.

All were playing on the Armco Country Club course about 20 miles north of Butler and scampered for the eight-foot-by-eight shelter when the storm came up.

The dead: John Katryck, 52, Andrew W. Dobda, 46, Allen C. Pollack, 51, and Eugene S. Harman, 55.

All were residents of Butler and employes of the Armco Steel Corp., which uses the golf course as an employe recreation area.

Robert P. Hindman, manager of Armco's Butler plant, immediately suspended all activities at the course. He said:

"This is a most terrible tragedy to have struck our community and these families in our plant."

Crucible

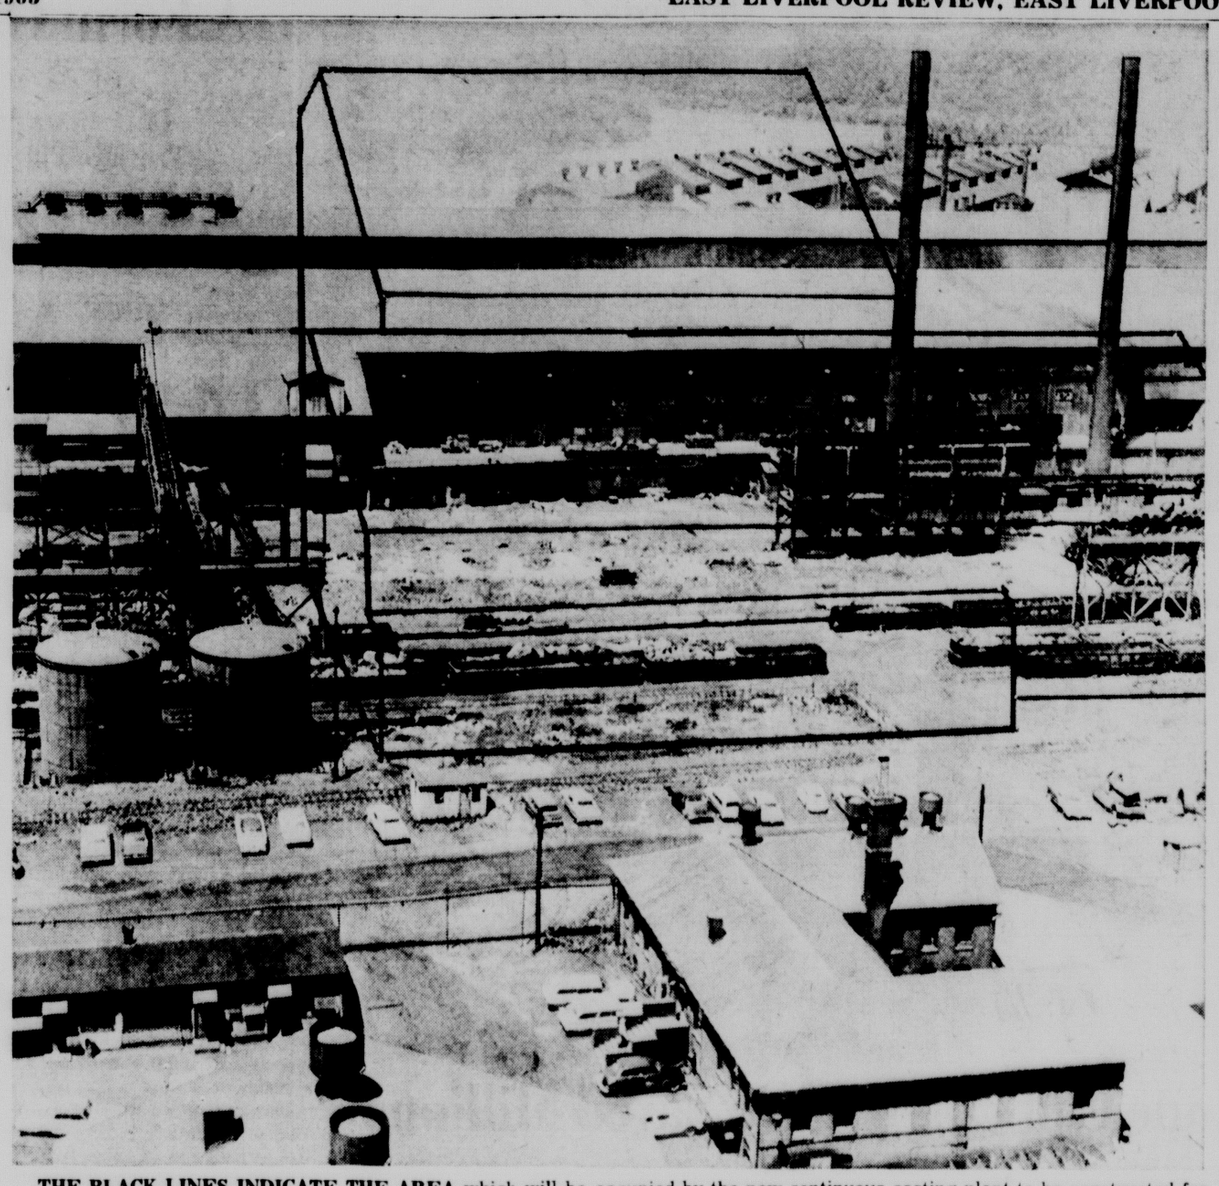
it eliminates several time-consuming and expensive steelmaking operations and increases the yield. In conventional practice, metal from the steelmaking furnace is tapped into a ladle, which is then poured or teemed into ingot molds, where the steel is allowed to solidify. When sufficiently cool, the molds are transported to another part of the plant where they are stripped from the ingots.

The ingots are next placed in soaking pits, where they are reheated to a temperature proper for rolling into blooms or slabs on a blooming or slabbing mill. In contrast, the slab is produced directly by the continuous caster with a higher yield of usable metal.

CRUCIBLE expects to use the new facility for its flat-rolled products, predominantly stainless sheet and strip.

Four buildings, in an area 240 feet by 280 feet, and 125 feet high at the tallest point, will be built to house the facility and its auxiliary equipment, locker rooms and office. Included is a complete water treatment and re-circulation plant, with cooling tower and heat treating facilities.

The buildings will be located adjacent to the Melt Shops, between the Electric and Open Hearth departments.



THE BLACK LINES INDICATE THE AREA which will be occupied by the new continuous casting plant to be constructed for the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. The plant and its auxiliary equipment will be housed in four buildings adjacent to the Melt Shop.

Man Escapes Injury In Freak Auto Mishap

NEW CUMBERLAND — A 72-year - old Weirton man escaped injury Wednesday night in a freak one - car accident on Ridge Ave.

Police Chief William Webster said Nick Diamantidis was headed south when he lost control on the slippery street. His auto slid across the center line, climbed over the top of the guard rails, went down an embankment, circled a utility pole and climbed back up the grade.

The chief estimated about $100 damage to the auto. Diamantidis was not cited.

trations in South Viet Nam, the spokesman said. U. S. Air Force, Navy and Marine planes took part.

On the ground, 600 U. S. paratroopers invaded the Viet Cong's "D" zone 25 miles north of Saigon where large Communist concentrations were believed massing. By noon they had made little contact with the enemy.

The second battalion of the 173rd Airborne Brigade moved into the dense jungle area by helicopter early today. They encountered sniper fire, but no U. S. casualties were reported.

In Saigon, Foreign Minister Tran Van Do announced that South Viet Nam's government has broken diplomatic relations with France after months of increasingly strained relations resulting from President Charles de Gaulle's calls for a negotiated peace in Viet Nam and neutralization of both South and North Viet Nam.

Do said consular relations would continue and future relations would be handled by their consulates.

"France pretends to be a friend but it isn't," the foreign minister told a news conference.

A few minutes earlier, chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu declared a "state of war" throughout South Viet Nam. He told a news conference this would permit the government to take "any measures necessary" to aid the war effort, including general mobilization. But he said this was not necessary yet.

Thieu added that many new measures to push the war effort forward will be made public in the next few days.

dent regarding Mr. Kovac's desk.

"I had no knowledge of the incident until it was brought to my attention by Mr. Kovac," he said.

Kovac, who resigned a month ago effective July 1, served as top fund raiser during the drive to draft Barry Goldwater for the GOP presidential nomination, then in the Arizona senator's campaign to top the Republican ticket.

He returned to the national committee after Goldwater had been nominated.

Kelly, 43, a lawyer from Cincinnati, where he once was vice mayor, has been chief administrative assistant in charge of office affairs since Bliss took office April 1.

Police Check Theft Report Of Youth, 19

Chief A. J. Radeschi said today East Liverpool police are continuing investigation of a 19-year-old Wheeling youth's report that he was robbed of $100 near midnight Wednesday by four or five young men after one had inflicted a superficial wound on his chest with a hunting knife.

Paul E. Cole of Wheeling was treated at City Hospital at 12:05 a. m. today for a minor cut on the upper right chest and a contusion of the right upper arm, which he said were suffered in a struggle at 11:50 p.m. in Green Ln. at E. 9th St. with the young men who accosted him, then robbed him of his wallet and fled in an auto.

Lt. Kenneth H. Mooney and Patrolman Ronald J. Brookes investigated after police were notified of the incident by hospital authorities.

Cole told the officers he came to East Liverpool in an unsuccessful search for his father, whom he had not seen in five years.

He said as he walked at E. 9th and Green Ln. he saw four or five young men leaning against a parked car in Green Ln. He said the unidentified men were discharging fireworks as he approached.

Cole said the encounter began when one of the men asked him why he was wearing a Civil Air Patrol uniform. Then, he said, they grabbed him and ordered him to surrender his wallet, but he refused.

A struggle ensued and Cole broke away, but one of the group pulled out a hunting knife and "stabbed" him, Cole related. Police said the wound was more of a scratch than a deep cut and it definitely was not a stab wound.

Cole said the men finally obtained his wallet. Then they climbed into a 1959 model auto and drove north in Green Ln., he said. Police said the Wheeling youth was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist, David Wilson, of 1728 Holliday St.

Probation Study Set In Robbery Charges

LISBON — A probation investigation has been ordered for Donald R. George, 35, of Deerfield R. D. 1, who changed his plea to guilty of armed robbery Feb. 24 of the GAC Finance Co. at Salem.

George was indicted by the recalled April grand jury along with Chester R. Winters, 26, of Alliance, who also pleaded guilty to the same offense and requested probation.

George gave himself up to Salem police after they had issued a warrant for his arrest and told them he was "tired of running." He was bound over to the grand jury by the Northeast County Court.

The New Isolationists

No one worries about isolationism in these interventionist times.

Isolationism supposedly died on the vine in the two decades between the two world wars. The disenchantment that had produced it after World War I yielded to the interventionism that pushed the United States into World War II and later into a role of worldwide defender of freedom.

But in 1965, on the 20th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations, which was going to change interventionism from a unilateral into a multilateral action, isolationism has reappeared.

Its reappearance has not drawn the attention of platform speakers.

It has found a harbor, ironically, in the minds of the same people who formerly scolded their fellow citizens for isolationist thought and behavior.

Eastern "liberals" now are undergoing the same disenchantment about intervention abroad that formerly had chilled the enthusiasm of Midwesterners for foreign entanglements.

The United Nations, that intricate organization for legalizing and regularizing multilateral intervention, has been indifferent in its 20th year of existence to the problems of the United States in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

Eastern liberals who conceived of the United Nations and its doctrine of collective security have been not only indifferent but hostile to the Johnson administration for carrying out the U.N.'s intent in two storm centers of international trouble.

It is curious, indeed, that President Johnson must depend for his strongest backing on Americans who did not vote for him last November because they thought he was wishy-washy about using U.S. military muscle.

In the meantime, many people who only lately were mooning about world government are picketing to bring the boys home from Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and wherever else they have been sent to thwart despotism.

If anyone were to tell these people they are isolationists, they would deny it. But it's like they say about a duck: If it walks like one, looks like one and quacks like one, it's a duck, sure enough.

Even if it thinks it's something else, it's still a duck.

New Stature

If the "point of beginning" monument at the Ohio-Pennsylvania line seems to have taken on added luster, there's a good reason.

It has received additional recognition, this time from the federal government which has placed it in line as a registered historic national landmark.

Thomas Hutchins, the first geographer of the United States, would have been especially pleased in the knowledge that his pioneer efforts as a surveyor back in 1785 have not been forgotten.

And the monument becomes even more important itself as an historical attraction in an area which has written many colorful and exciting chapter's in the nation's history.

An Epilogue To Tragedy

Everything about the real life of Marilyn Monroe, most glamorous movie-screen shadow of the '50s, was shadowed by tragedy.

It was evident by hindsight that this beautiful woman who had sought personal happiness in vain would try someday to end a life that had given her no satisfaction. And now comes the epilogue to the tragedy.

When Marilyn Monroe was found dead, an apparent suicide, on Aug. 5, 1962, only one positive element remained out of the frustration of her life—her bequests for the benefit of an invalid mother and people who had helped her. Her estate was estimated to be half a million dollars.

It is revealed now that nothing will be left after federal taxes have been paid. She thought she had paid what she owed. But when federal inspectors had disallowed certain claims, nothing was left. Out of 23 films that grossed some $200 million, the actress' estate contains less than nothing to show for it all.

Even her invalid mother, who apparently had been provided for by a $100,000 trust fund, is now an object of charity. Only the government is in position to get everything coming to it.

Surrounded By Water

Its boomers never would admit it, but New York City's booming is threatened by a chronic water shortage. The city's staggering demand can be met only by a median rainfall that does not happen.

Here, then, is a metropolis whose environs all are surrounded by water or adjacent to water yet is threatened by thirst. Only in its current desperation is it considering the obvious solution of augmenting its reservoir water supply with water from the Hudson River.

River water has not been used by New York City in modern times because of pollution from upstream and the mixing of sea water as the Hudson approached the ocean. It is a double-barreled illustration of the nation's water problem. It explains why the most significant new project afoot is development of processes for most urgent of all long-running projects is purifying the rivers and lakes of the nation.

New York City and Los Angeles, with acute water problems, and all cities with chronic problems are tragic testimony to the urgency of the most neglected and most urgent need in the nation today—water supply.

Dear Nephew: How long has it been since you read about the crusades in the Middle Ages? Quite a while?

I have been reading about them.

The idea behind the crusades—there were at least eight of them altogether—was to assert the superiority of Western Civilization, as we now call it, over the infidels in what now is known as the Middle East.

The result was to give the crusaders an insight into things they never knew before. They inflicted terrible damage on the infidels, but no more terrible than the damage they inflicted on themselves. In the long run, the infidels outlasted them.

Not only were the crusaders repulsed but discredited. To this day, the idea of organizing expeditions to distant places to force ideologies on people of other cultures stirs human doubts.

Separation of church and state stopped official holy wars, but the same zeal that once set Christians marching against Muslims and their ilk now sets the West marching against the East. Britain, the Netherlands, France, Belgium, Italy and Spain have been repulsed, but we're still trying, aren't we?

It stands to reason that if the West does not march against the East, modern hordes of Asiatics will march against the West, does it not? So, the idea of the original crusades is still being preserved. We must save ourselves.

The original crusades united the infidels. During the original verson, the infidels not only learned to oust the crusaders but got the hang of organizing their defense, to the extent they were able to counterattack eventually.

You learn from the original crusades that the crusaders were so fired up with self-righteousness they lost their perspective. Actually, to say they lost perspective is to be charitable. They never had any. Their crusades kept them from developing any, until they finally had so many problems at home they lost interest in marching against Muslims. Their enthusiasm cooled.

It was to be generations before they recovered from the backlash of intolerance. Lacking Muslims to march against, they persecuted Jews and other religious minorities in their midst. They just weren't happy unless forcing their views on someone.

Historians surmise that the net effect of the original crusades was good. The crusades boomed international trade and set up a kind of cultural exchange. On balance, Europe profited more than the Near East, because when the crusades began Europe was a fledgling civilization. The Muslims were presiding over an older civilization that had forgotten more things than the invaders had had time to learn. They learned the hard way.

Read about the original crusades. You will find them interesting.

Phone Call Could Have Saved Millions

By Victor Riesel

A 10-cent phone call could have prevented the misuse of many millions of government dollars. But the call was not made.

Victor Riesel

No money was stolen—just misused. Few outsiders know just how many millions of dollars were wasted by one agency, the Area Redevelopment Administration, in an effort to help the unemployed.

At a minimum, the ineptly used funds come to more than $17 million. It could run ten times that. Only the comptroller general of the U.S., Joe Campbell, and his eagle-eyed General Accounting Office know.

They delved into appropriations totaling more than $700 million. They came up with the charge that the ARA threw millions into areas where improved conditions did not warrant the expenditure of the relief funds.

And, says the comptroller, the ARA on the other hand did not spend enough money in depressed regions where more funds should have been spent.

THIS MISUSE of federal millions resulted from the ARA's failure to check the latest unemployment figures in the districts to which they rushed money for public works.

The ARA says it did not have current figures available.

Yet such data was available just down the street from ARA headquarters. The up to date figures on joblessness were and have been in the Labor Department. One phone call could have given the ARA all the statistics it needed.

Instead, the ARA last year and during the end of 1963 used 1961 statistics or the data taken from one early month in 1962.

As a result hundreds of millions of dollars were spent on the basis of figures anywhere from 5 to 16 months old.

Thus, the millions were allocated in areas despite the fact that there had been "significant" changes in those cities and regions. We have the word of Comptroller Campbell that the changes were significant.

THUS CITIES which did not need heavy assistance got it. And depressed areas grew more depressed when they did not receive the full amounts they needed to help their growing joblessness.

In all, the ARA got $400 million for accelerated public works with which to create jobs in needy areas in Oct. 1962. Then in May 1963 it got another $450 million.

ARA's task was to discover how many jobless there were in each needy district or city. Then to spend money in that region or community accordingly. There was a set formula depending on the number of unemployed.

Therefore, much depended on the currency of the data. If a city had an increase in joblessness, money for job-making public works was poured in.

Instead of using month-old figures available over in the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security, the ARA used 1961 and early 1962 data.

THUS, ONE MIDWEST city was overpaid $17.3 million because the job situation had improved rapidly since 1961 and there were far fewer unemployed.

But a city such as Miami, Fla., which had an influx of jobless between 1961 and 1964 was underpaid—or under-aided—by almost $4 million. By using the 1961 figure of Miami unemployed, the ARA in 1963 and 1964 overlooked the tens of thousands of needy Cuban refugees.

Mr. Campbell in a statement deplored the ARA's re-use of "the same non-current date it had used" in the past.

And recently, when the Labor Department attempted to secure funds for even more exact, up-to-the-minute studies of the jobless, Congress refused to give the department some $2.5 million.

So the study now won't be made. Seems penny-wise and millions foolish.

The Little Guy

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The little guy, any little guy who listened to the professors a whole hour on television, began to get those pains in his head. He was glad they couldn't quiz him afterwards on what they said.

It was all about Viet Nam and what to do.

The little guy is always impressed when he sees President Johnson's assistant, McGeorge Bundy, on television, as he did this week. Bundy used to be dean of the faculty of arts and sciences at Harvard.

He is strictly a no-nonsense kind of man who looks stern and to the point, like he is conducting an examination every minute and giving you marks in his head, and sometimes he gives the impression the marks are not good.

Bundy had two professors on his side, which is Johnson's side. They were there to back up the way Johnson is handling the war in Viet Nam. On the other side were three professors, all critical.

All six are great talkers and during the hour all said something, but none so much as Bundy and one of the critical professors, Hans Morgenthau, who teaches political science at the University of Chicago.

The little guy thought he was going to hear a debate about American policy in Viet Nam but he wound up thinking they were arguing more about tactics than policy.

They all seemed agreed that the policy is all right: trying to convince the Communists to sit down and talk peace. It's how to get the Communists to sit down that had the professors at sixes and sevens.

But the six professors seemed to forget that maybe the Reds are on a different wave length and while they knock themselves out worrying about how to bring about peace the Communists can't hear them, or won't listen.

Bundy said he believes with all his heart that what the United States is doing now in Viet Nam — to persuade the Reds to talk peace— is right.

What it's doing is bombing North Viet Nam — and also South Viet Nam when it thinks it has the Viet Cong spotted — and using American troops in the fighting and building up the American forces apparently for more of the same.

The Johnson administration takes the position that this is all a rather restrained nudge to the Reds, since it could go all out in its bombing and hit places like Hanoi, but isn't.

After what the Chinese called Wilson, Johnson administration officials reportedly are wondering if U.S. policy hasn't been too restrained.

But Morgenthau doesn't think this is the way to convince the Communists they can't win and thus convince them peace is better. What would he do? This is where the pains in the little guy's head got worse.

Morgenthau wouldn't pull the American forces out of Viet Nam. "Our aim," he said, "should be to get out of Viet Nam but to get out with honor." How could we do that? Morgenthau had a formula:

The United States should try to hold a few strong points in Viet Nam and maybe try to talk peace with the Reds in the fall. He seemed to think holding those points, instead of getting deeper into war, would convince the Reds they couldn't win and therefore should talk peace.

A Form Of Coercion

Pressure Put On Fraternities

The way has been opened to compel every fraternity in the colleges, universities and high schools, every private club and every fraternal organization to include in its membership persons of every race and religion or suffer as a penalty the loss of federal tax exemption. In the case of educational institutions, there would be a loss of federal financial aid to the university or college which permits any campus organization to practice racial or religious discrimination.

David Lawrence

These steps are foreshadowed by the interpretation of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 just issued by the administration through the office of the U.S. commissioner of education, Francis Keppel.

The federal government intervened recently when it was discovered that the local chapter of the Sigma Chi fraternity at Stanford University in California had been suspended by the national chapter for having decided to admit a Negro student.

The national chapter is a private organization. It isn't under the jurisdiction of the federal government, nor does it receive any financial assistance from Washington. But the U.S. commissioner of education warned in a letter that, unless the Stanford chapter were allowed to include the Negro student in its membershp, Stanford university itself would be penalized.

THIS EXTRAORDINARY threat is contained in the commissioner's pronouncement. It states first that there must be no discriminatory practices in "making available for the use of students any building, room, space, materials, equipment or other facility or property."

Then the commissioner points to the regulations which were issued supposedly under the authority of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and which require schools to give assurances that there is no racial discrimination "in admission practices or any other practices of the institution relating to the treatment of students."

Furthermore, the commissioner declares:

"This language makes it apparent that an institution which maintains a fraternity system as a part of its activities and over-all program is responsible under the Civil Rights Act requirements for assuring that discrimination is not practiced by the fraternities in the system. . . .

"To my knowledge the suspension of Sigma Chi at Stanford by the fraternity's national executive committee is the first major test involving de facto discrimination within a national fraternity to develop since passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. As such, it seems certain to attract wide public interest."

UNFORTUNATELY, though the letter was made public last Thursday, it hasn't attracted "wide public interest." Possibly this is because the American people — particularly those who are identified with clubs, fraternities or other social organizations — haven't discovered as yet that the new ruling makes a mockery of what the Supreme Court of the United States said just a few days before on the importance of preserving the "right of privacy" as an inherent part of the Constitution itself.

While almost everyone with human sympathy and understanding recognizes that discrimination by reason of race or religion gives the individual affected a feeling of unforgettable stigma, there is a bigger constitutional methods and endeavoring to achieve reform by applying the doctrine that "the end justifies the means."

There is nothing in the Constitution which permits the federal government to control the educational process in America. The mere grant or loan of taxpayers' money to the states or directly to colleges or universities does not carry with it the right to exercise any jurisdiction over such matters as regulating the conduct or relationships of students to each other.

IF A REGULATION can be derived from the Civil Rights law of 1964 empowering the federal government to use its financial transactions with the citizens to impose punishment for actions which are not in themselves forbidden by state or federal law, then the way is opened to apply the same procedure to fraternal organizations of all kinds, as well as private clubs generally.

It can be done by denying them exemptions from the payment of income taxes in those years in which their receipts exceed expenditures.

It apparently would be sufficient for the Treasury Department to declare that the Civil Rights Act of 1964 authorizes the withholding of financial assistance to any organization or institution which permits discrimination on racial or religious grounds. Certainly in these days of official word-twisting, "financial assistance" is a broad enough term to cover tax exemptions.

Thus, federal power could be used as a form of coercion in private clubs in the same way it is about to be exercised in passing upon the qualifications for membership in student fraternities in colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Full Of Life

To the beach-goer, hot sand dunes seem lifeless. To the biologist, however, they are a fascinating world teeming with life.

Insects and myriad other creatures inhabit dunes despite surface heat that soars to 135 degrees, the National Geographic Society says. Winged animals can escape their oven - like world by taking short, cooling flights. Others are specially adapted to survive.

In the June issue of National Geographic, Delaware marine biologist William H. Amos tells about his summer-long study of the Cape Henlopen Dunes at the mouth of Delaware Bay.

"The more I studied the dunes, the more insects and other creatures I found, and the more I noticed their protective heat shields," Amos writes.

"Some creatures were so swatched in light-colored 'fur' that they looked like miniature Eskimos in hooded parkas. Flies, wasps, beetles and spiders all wore furry coverings, although often it took a powerful magnifying glass to detect them. Some of the digger wasps had silver hairs between the eyes, in the region of their tiny brains. It is conceivable that these may serve as efficient heat reflectors."

The New Isolationists

No one worries about isolationism in these interventionist times.

Isolationism supposedly died on the vine in the two decades between the two world wars. The disenchantment that had produced it after World War I yielded to the interventionism that pushed the United States into World War II and later into a role of worldwide defender of freedom.

But in 1965, on the 20th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations, which was going to change interventionism from a unilateral into a multilateral action, isolationism has reappeared.

Its reappearance has not drawn the attention of platform speakers.

It has found a harbor, ironically, in the minds of the same people who formerly scolded their fellow citizens for isolationist thought and behavior.

Eastern "liberals" now are undergoing the same disenchantment about intervention abroad that formerly had chilled the enthusiasm of Midwesterners for foreign entanglements.

The United Nations, that intricate organization for legalizing and regularizing multilateral intervention, has been indifferent in its 20th year of existence to the problems of the United States in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

Eastern liberals who conceived of the United Nations and its doctrine of collective security have been not only indifferent but hostile to the Johnson administration for carrying out the U.N.'s intent in two storm centers of international trouble.

It is curious, indeed, that President Johnson must depend for his strongest backing on Americans who did not vote for him last November because they thought he was wishy-washy about using U.S. military muscle.

In the meantime, many people who only lately were mooning about world government are picketing to bring the boys home from Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and wherever else they have been sent to thwart despotism.

If anyone were to tell these people they are isolationists, they would deny it. But it's like they say about a duck: If it walks like one, looks like one and quacks like one, it's a duck, sure enough.

Even if it thinks it's something else, it's still a duck.

New Stature

It has received additional recognition, this time from the federal government which has placed it in line as a registered historic national landmark.

Thomas Hutchins, the first geographer of the United States, would have been especially pleased in the knowledge that his pioneer efforts as a surveyor back in 1785 have not been forgotten.

And the monument becomes even more important itself as an historical attraction in an area which has written many colorful and exciting chapter's in the nation's history.

An Epilogue To Tragedy

Everything about the real life of Marilyn Monroe, most glamorous movie-screen shadow of the '50s, was shadowed by tragedy.

It was evident by hindsight that this beautiful woman who had sought personal happiness in vain would try someday to end a life that had given her no satisfaction. And now comes the epilogue to the tragedy.

When Marilyn Monroe was found dead, an apparent suicide, on Aug. 5, 1962, only one positive element remained out of the frustration of her life—her bequests for the benefit of an invalid mother and people who had helped her. Her estate was estimated to be half a million dollars.

A Form Of Coercion

Pressure Put On Fraternities

The way has been opened to compel every fraternity in the colleges, universities and high schools, every private club and every fraternal organization to include in its membership persons of every race and religion or suffer as a penalty the loss of federal tax exemption. In the case of educational institutions, there would be a loss of federal financial aid to the university or college which permits any campus organization to practice racial or religious discrimination.

David Lawrence

These steps are foreshadowed by the interpretation of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 just issued by the administration through the office of the U.S. commissioner of education, Francis Keppel.

The federal government intervened recently when it was discovered that the local chapter of the Sigma Chi fraternity at Stanford University in California had been suspended by the national chapter for having decided to admit a Negro student.

The national chapter is a private organization. It isn't under the jurisdiction of the federal government, nor does it receive any financial assistance from Washington. But the U.S. commissioner of education warned in a letter that, unless the Stanford chapter were allowed to include the Negro student in its membershp, Stanford university itself would be penalized.

THIS EXTRAORDINARY threat is contained in the commissioner's pronouncement. It states first that there must be no discriminatory practices in "making available for the use of students any building, room, space, materials, equipment or other facility or property."

Then the commissioner points to the regulations which were issued supposedly under the authority of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and which require schools to give assurances that there is no racial discrimination "in admission practices or any other practices of the institution relating to the treatment of students."

Furthermore, the commissioner declares:

"This language makes it apparent that an institution which maintains a fraternity system as a part of its activities and over-all program is responsible under the Civil Rights Act requirements for assuring that discrimination is not practiced by the fraternities in the system. . . .

"To my knowledge the suspension of Sigma Chi at Stanford by the fraternity's national executive committee is the first major test involving de facto discrimination within a national fraternity to develop since passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. As such, it seems certain to attract wide public interest."

UNFORTUNATELY, though the letter was made public last Thursday, it hasn't attracted "wide public interest." Possibly this is because the American people — particularly those who are identified with clubs, fraternities or other social organizations — haven't discovered as yet that the new ruling makes a mockery of what the Supreme Court of the United States said just a few days before on the importance of preserving the "right of privacy" as an inherent part of the Constitution itself.

While almost everyone with human sympathy and understanding recognizes that discrimination by reason of race or religion gives the individual affected a feeling of unforgettable stigma, there is a bigger constitutional methods and endeavoring to achieve reform by applying the doctrine that "the end justifies the means."

There is nothing in the Constitution which permits the federal government to control the educational process in America. The mere grant or loan of taxpayers' money to the states or directly to colleges or universities does not carry with it the right to exercise any jurisdiction over such matters as regulating the conduct or relationships of students to each other.

IF A REGULATION can be derived from the Civil Rights law of 1964 empowering the federal government to use its financial transactions with the citizens to impose punishment for actions which are not in themselves forbidden by state or federal law, then the way is opened to apply the same procedure to fraternal organizations of all kinds, as well as private clubs generally.

It can be done by denying them exemptions from the payment of income taxes in those years in which their receipts exceed expenditures.

It apparently would be sufficient for the Treasury Department to declare that the Civil Rights Act of 1964 authorizes the withholding of financial assistance to any organization or institution which permits discrimination on racial or religious grounds. Certainly in these days of official word-twisting, "financial assistance" is a broad enough term to cover tax exemptions.

Thus, federal power could be used as a form of coercion in private clubs in the same way it is about to be exercised in passing upon the qualifications for membership in student fraternities in colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—George A. Beck of Weirton, assistant superintendent of Hancock County schools, was elected high school principal here, succeeding B. G. Ludwig.

The 25th annual reunion of the Williams - Henry families was held at Peace Valley Park, with C. G. Lowry of East Liverpool, president, in charge.

George Dawson, Jr., a student at Mt. Union College in Alliance, arrived to spend the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dawson of Hookstown.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Church of Christ received the Gerald M. Grewell plaque for having the largest number of registered delegates at the district convention in Akron.

The Columbiana County office of the aid to the blind co-operated with the Lions Club and furnished white canes to blind men and women.

TEN YEARS AGO — Theodore Koenig of 1st Ave. was engaged as a trumpet player for the summer in the orchestra of the Oberlin College troupe of Gilbert and Sullivan players at Cape Cod.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Martin were appointed superintendent and matron of the Jefferson County Children's Home at Yellow Creek.

Construction of a new concrete dam across Beaver Creek at the YMCA's Pine Ridge Camp in Madison Township was started, with completion due in about 60 days.

Full Of Life

To the beach-goer, hot sand dunes seem lifeless. To the biologist, however, they are a fascinating world teeming with life.

Insects and myriad other creatures inhabit dunes despite surface heat that soars to 135 degrees, the National Geographic Society says. Winged animals can escape their oven - like world by taking short, cooling flights. Others are specially adapted to survive.

In the June issue of National Geographic, Delaware marine biologist William H. Amos tells about his summer-long study of the Cape Henlopen Dunes at the mouth of Delaware Bay.

"The more I studied the dunes, the more insects and other creatures I found, and the more I noticed their protective heat shields," Amos writes.

"Some creatures were so swatched in light-colored 'fur' that they looked like miniature Eskimos in hooded parkas. Flies, wasps, beetles and spiders all wore furry coverings, although often it took a powerful magnifying glass to detect them. Some of the digger wasps had silver hairs between the eyes, in the region of their tiny brains. It is conceivable that these may serve as efficient heat reflectors."

Ohio Senate Unit Clears Measure

$1.5 Billion Fund Bill Races Passage Deadline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The record $1.5 billion dollar general appropriations bill finally has cleared the Ohio Senate Finance Committee but still may not be passed before the July 1 deadline.

Wednesday night's committee action climaxed a drawn out legislative day marked by prolonged party caucuses and a top-level prediction that the session may come to an end in three weeks.

Both parties have pledged stopgap action, at least, on the appropriations bill in order to meet state payrolls and other obligations on time. But time is running short because the House will have to act on any changes approved by the senate.

Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-Miami, said Republicans favor an unscheduled floor session Friday to vote on the bill, but Democrats who have important revisions in mind said they would balk at such a session. The assembly normally takes weekend adjournment on Thursday.

The budget bill was increased about $40 million from the $1.461 million document approved by the House several weeks ago. The increases were $20 million for bond retirement and additional funds for education to include financing of school bus legislation proposed in both houses.

Senate Democrats caucused all afternoon on the appropriations bill and delayed until 7:30 p.m. a session at which final legislative approval was given to a bill legalizing the sale of birth control devices.

A Republican caucus delayed activities in the House, and Speaker Roger W. Cloud, R-Logan, said afterward that the legislature could complete its work in three weeks.

What was described by one lawmaker as "an overdose of amendments" led to defeat in the House of a bill originally intended to create new common pleas judgships in Summit and Medina counties.

Representatives approved amendments to also add two judges in Cuyahoga County and one in Hamilton County but reversed and defeated a proposal to add another in Lucas County. The bill then failed by an 86-35 vote, with a two-thirds majority of 92 needed for passage.

Senators beefed up and then passed a measure making parents liable for up to $250 property damage by their children under 18.

The measure set a $100 maximum as it came out of committee but Sen. Charles J. Carney, D-Mahoning, offered a successful amendment to boost the figure to $250.

Senators gave 23-4 approval to a measure that could be the clincher of a new $50 million a year industry for the Columbus area. The bill authorizes on-premises consumption of beer at breweries.

Sen. Robin Turner, R-Seneca, said the proposal would permit "a showplace for the product of a large brewery (Anheuser-Busch) that has indicated it will build in the Columbus area."

The Division of Parks could contract with the North American Coal Co. for sale of coal under Jefferson State Park in Jefferson County under a measure approved in the House without dissent.

People In News

NEW YORK (AP)—Leontyne Price, Metropolitan Opera soprano, has been named winner of this year's Spingarn Medal, awarded annually to a Negro American for distinguished achievement.

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the 1964 winner of the gold medal, made the announcement Wednesday night.

The award was instituted in 1914 by the late J.E. Spingarn, then NAACP board chairman.

MOSCOW (AP)—Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong appeared on Moscow television Wednesday doing his rendition of "Mack the Knife."

Armstrong has never played in Moscow, and the taped appearance was believed to be the first chance most Russians ever had to see him.

MOSCOW (AP)—Vladimir I. Stepakov, who replaced Nikita S. Khrushchev's son-in-law as editor of the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia, left the job more than a month ago, it was learned Wednesday. A new editor has not been named.

The reason was unavailable. Stepakov, a Communist party propaganda expert, had replaced Alexei I. Adzhubei as editor of the 6-million-circulation newspaper. The change followed the ouster of Khrushchev last October.

$40 In Cash Stolen At Palestine Lodge

EAST PALESTINE — An intruder stole $40 in cash from Eagles Lodge 1506 sometime between midnight and 7 a. m. today, according to police.

The money was taken from the bar room. The loss was discovered this morning by Mike Lynch, the lodge steward.

Officers said they are working on a lead.

U.S. Softens Insistence On Dues For U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States appears to be softening its insistence that the Soviet Union and other members of the United Nations refusing to pay peacekeeping assessments must pay their dues or lose their General Assembly vote.

President Johnson's aides indicate the President still is weighing what to say about — as he put it—"the future of the United Nations" in his speech to the U.N.'s 20th anniversary session in San Francisco Friday.

The U.N. Charter's Article 19 provides that members falling two years in arrears "shall have no vote" in the General Assembly. The Soviet Union, France, and Communist bloc countries face the potential penalty because of their refusal to pay for United Nations peacekeeping operations in the Congo and Middle East. U.N. finances are more than $100 million in the hole.

President John F. Kennedy told Congress in 1962 that all members will have to pay up or lose their right to votes in the General Assembly.

The Johnson administration continued the U.S. effort to get the delinquents to pay up. But the last General Assembly meeting was hamstrung over the issue, and negotiators have yet to come up with a solution.

Johnson told reporters a week ago: "We don't want to see the U.N. wrecked on account of a dollar."

The United States is by far the heaviest contributor to the international organization, supplying about one-third of its funds.

A form of "compromise" under consideration would have various U.N. members make "voluntary" contributions to allay the financial backlog. Under such circumstances, supporters of Article 19 could say the money was being paid, and opponents of the peacekeeping assessments could say they had still refused to pay them.

Building New Roads

BELGRADE (AP) — In the past 10 years Yugoslavia has constructed 8,500 kilometers (5,300 miles) of new automobile highways.

Hookstown Area Man Injured In Car Wreck

Robert C. Johnson of Route 30, Hookstown, is listed in "fair" condition at City Hospital with injuries sustained in an auto accident Wednesday night about 8 south of Route 168 on the Gas Valley Rd.

Johnson received a cerebral concussion, multiple lacerations of the right arm and thigh and a fractured right clavicle. Police had no report of the incident.

Police Slightly Shaken

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Flint police, accustomed to tracking down stolen cars, were slightly shaken recently when the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co. reported one of its diesel locomotives had been filched. Officers found it, however, about five miles from the roadhouse where it was taken. A search continued for the illicit engineers.

People In News

NEW YORK (AP)—Leontyne Price, Metropolitan Opera soprano, has been named winner of this year's Spingarn Medal, awarded annually to a Negro American for distinguished achievement.

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the 1964 winner of the gold medal, made the announcement Wednesday night.

The award was instituted in 1914 by the late J.E. Spingarn, then NAACP board chairman.

MOSCOW (AP)—Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong appeared on Moscow television Wednesday doing his rendition of "Mack the Knife."

Armstrong has never played in Moscow, and the taped appearance was believed to be the first chance most Russians ever had to see him.

MOSCOW (AP)—Vladimir I. Stepakov, who replaced Nikita S. Khrushchev's son-in-law as editor of the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia, left the job more than a month ago, it was learned Wednesday. A new editor has not been named.

The reason was unavailable. Stepakov, a Communist party propaganda expert, had replaced Alexei I. Adzhubei as editor of the 6-million-circulation newspaper. The change followed the ouster of Khrushchev last October.

$40 In Cash Stolen At Palestine Lodge

EAST PALESTINE — An intruder stole $40 in cash from Eagles Lodge 1506 sometime between midnight and 7 a. m. today, according to police.

The money was taken from the bar room. The loss was discovered this morning by Mike Lynch, the lodge steward.

Officers said they are working on a lead.

U.S. Softens Insistence On Dues For U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States appears to be softening its insistence that the Soviet Union and other members of the United Nations refusing to pay peacekeeping assessments must pay their dues or lose their General Assembly vote.

President Johnson's aides indicate the President still is weighing what to say about — as he put it—"the future of the United Nations" in his speech to the U.N.'s 20th anniversary session in San Francisco Friday.

The U.N. Charter's Article 19 provides that members falling two years in arrears "shall have no vote" in the General Assembly. The Soviet Union, France, and Communist bloc countries face the potential penalty because of their refusal to pay for United Nations peacekeeping operations in the Congo and Middle East. U.N. finances are more than $100 million in the hole.

President John F. Kennedy told Congress in 1962 that all members will have to pay up or lose their right to votes in the General Assembly.

The Johnson administration continued the U.S. effort to get the delinquents to pay up. But the last General Assembly meeting was hamstrung over the issue, and negotiators have yet to come up with a solution.

Johnson told reporters a week ago: "We don't want to see the U.N. wrecked on account of a dollar."

The United States is by far the heaviest contributor to the international organization, supplying about one-third of its funds.

A form of "compromise" under consideration would have various U.N. members make "voluntary" contributions to allay the financial backlog. Under such circumstances, supporters of Article 19 could say the money was being paid, and opponents of the peacekeeping assessments could say they had still refused to pay them.

Police Slightly Shaken

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Flint police, accustomed to tracking down stolen cars, were slightly shaken recently when the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co. reported one of its diesel locomotives had been filched. Officers found it, however, about five miles from the roadhouse where it was taken. A search continued for the illicit engineers.

U.S. Requests Disarmament Parley Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has asked the Soviet Union to agree to a date at the earliest possible time for reopening 17-nation disarmament talks at Geneva aimed at negotiating an expanded nuclear test-ban treaty and an agreement to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Administration officials, awaiting a Soviet reply, said they see little prospect of any real progress in either of these fields in the near future. In their view the whole range of U.S.-Soviet relations is more or less paralyzed by the Vietnamese war situation.

The request for agreement on an early date to start up the disarmament talks again was made by U.S. disarmament policy chief William C. Foster in New York a week ago to Soviet disarmament expert Semyon K. Tsarapkin. It was the latest of a number of U.S. efforts to reopen disarmament negotiations. Tsarapkin reportedly said he would have to refer the matter to Moscow.

Fresh attention was focused on the nuclear proliferation problem Wednesday in a Senate speech by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who called on President Johnson to make nonproliferation "a central priority of American policy."

Kennedy asked for immediate negotiations with the Soviet Union and other nuclear powers or potential nuclear powers on a nonproliferation treaty. He also called for establishment of nuclear-free zones in the world and expansion of the limited test-ban treaty to include a ban on underground nuclear weapons testing.

The last major effort in this field was centered in a meeting of the 114-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission in New York beginning April 20 and running through June 16. At the conclusion of this conference, India and 28 cosponsors put through a resolution calling for resumption of disarmament talks at Geneva in the 17-nation U.N. Disarmament Committee.

It was in following up this action that the United States proposed to the Soviet Union agreement on the earliest date possible for reopening Geneva negotiations.

Administration officials said today that they had tried early this year to get the Geneva talks started again but Moscow had preferred the larger U.N. commission as a forum for disarmament discussions. The United States and the Soviet Union served as cochairmen of the 17-nation group which has met at Geneva periodically for several years.

Some U.S. officials believe the Soviets have been reluctant to revive the Geneva negotiations again because in the current Vietnamese situation and in view of their continuing quarrel with Red China they have wanted to avoid any suggestion or evidence of cooperation with the United States in any field.

The White House, commenting on the Kennedy speech Wednesday in response to an inquiry, said it was "glad that Sen. Kennedy is also interested in this field."

Junta Urges Plan Changes

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican junta proposed major changes Wednesday night in the peace plan put forward by the Organization of American States, while the rebels asked only minor modifications.

The replies of both sides seemed to put them in virtual agreement on only one major part of the OAS plan proposed last Friday — the holding of elections in six to nine months. The junta said, however, that the elections should be subject to postponement if the OAS found this necessary.

On another major point of the OAS plan — the creation of a provisional government, pending elections — the junta nominated itself to be the core of the provisional regime. It said it could either be broadened or aided by a consultative body.

The rebels were certain to reject this although they did not specifically recommend who should make up the provisional government. They urged the selection of persons of "democratic faith and practice."

The junta said that one specific group, the Communists, should have no part in a future government. It proposed that all individuals listed as Communists should leave the country but did not cite any particular list.

The lack of agreement seemed to leave the next move up to the OAS, which has a three-man peace committee negotiating with both sides.

The counter proposals included these other contrasting points:

— The rebels want the Inter-American Peace Force withdrawn from the Dominican Republic after a provisional government takes over. The junta says the peace force should depart immediately after agree-agreement on a peace formula.

— The rebels proposed that the provisional government take custody of arms in civilian hands. The junta said the arms should be turned over to the OAS first and 15 days later to the Dominican army.

U.S. Requests Disarmament Parley Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has asked the Soviet Union to agree to a date at the earliest possible time for reopening 17-nation disarmament talks at Geneva aimed at negotiating an expanded nuclear test-ban treaty and an agreement to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Administration officials, awaiting a Soviet reply, said they see little prospect of any real progress in either of these fields in the near future. In their view the whole range of U.S.-Soviet relations is more or less paralyzed by the Vietnamese war situation.

The request for agreement on an early date to start up the disarmament talks again was made by U.S. disarmament policy chief William C. Foster in New York a week ago to Soviet disarmament expert Semyon K. Tsarapkin. It was the latest of a number of U.S. efforts to reopen disarmament negotiations. Tsarapkin reportedly said he would have to refer the matter to Moscow.

Fresh attention was focused on the nuclear proliferation problem Wednesday in a Senate speech by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who called on President Johnson to make nonproliferation "a central priority of American policy."

Kennedy asked for immediate negotiations with the Soviet Union and other nuclear powers or potential nuclear powers on a nonproliferation treaty. He also called for establishment of nuclear-free zones in the world and expansion of the limited test-ban treaty to include a ban on underground nuclear weapons testing.

The last major effort in this field was centered in a meeting of the 114-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission in New York beginning April 20 and running through June 16. At the conclusion of this conference, India and 28 cosponsors put through a resolution calling for resumption of disarmament talks at Geneva in the 17-nation U.N. Disarmament Committee.

It was in following up this action that the United States proposed to the Soviet Union agreement on the earliest date possible for reopening Geneva negotiations.

Administration officials said today that they had tried early this year to get the Geneva talks started again but Moscow had preferred the larger U.N. commission as a forum for disarmament discussions. The United States and the Soviet Union served as cochairmen of the 17-nation group which has met at Geneva periodically for several years.

Some U.S. officials believe the Soviets have been reluctant to revive the Geneva negotiations again because in the current Vietnamese situation and in view of their continuing quarrel with Red China they have wanted to avoid any suggestion or evidence of cooperation with the United States in any field.

The White House, commenting on the Kennedy speech Wednesday in response to an inquiry, said it was "glad that Sen. Kennedy is also interested in this field."

Junta Urges Plan Changes

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican junta proposed major changes Wednesday night in the peace plan put forward by the Organization of American States, while the rebels asked only minor modifications.

The replies of both sides seemed to put them in virtual agreement on only one major part of the OAS plan proposed last Friday — the holding of elections in six to nine months. The junta said, however, that the elections should be subject to postponement if the OAS found this necessary.

On another major point of the OAS plan — the creation of a provisional government, pending elections — the junta nominated itself to be the core of the provisional regime. It said it could either be broadened or aided by a consultative body.

The rebels were certain to reject this although they did not specifically recommend who should make up the provisional government. They urged the selection of persons of "democratic faith and practice."

The junta said that one specific group, the Communists, should have no part in a future government. It proposed that all individuals listed as Communists should leave the country but did not cite any particular list.

The lack of agreement seemed to leave the next move up to the OAS, which has a three-man peace committee negotiating with both sides.

The counter proposals included these other contrasting points:

— The rebels want the Inter-American Peace Force withdrawn from the Dominican Republic after a provisional government takes over. The junta says the peace force should depart immediately after agree-agreement on a peace formula.

— The rebels proposed that the provisional government take custody of arms in civilian hands. The junta said the arms should be turned over to the OAS first and 15 days later to the Dominican army.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

Color Breakthrough

Color TV is still bustin' out all over.

CBS, in a crash program to overtake NBC in prime-time colorcasting, has announced six more weekly series will be multi-hued next-season, bringing the total to 17. That's half the night-time lineup.

Richard Doan

Meanwhile, ABC reported that two more of its fall series, "Farmer's Daughter" and the new Burl Ives comedy, "O.K. Crackerby," have been added to the tint list.

That gives ABC seven night shows in color, not including Sunday night movies.

CBS AND ED SULLIVAN are both so anxious to convert his variety hour to color that the network will move Sullivan and his production crew to Hollywood, where there are color facilities, to start the season in September, bringing the show back here later when color equipment has been installed in a studio in CBS' new Broadcast Center in New York.

CBS conceded that not all of its added color will be in effect when the season opens. The new "Steve Lawrence Show" on Monday nights, coming out of New York, is tabbed for color, but will begin its run in September in black and white.

Added to the list of CBS shows coming on in color in September were three present series, Andy Griffith's comedy, "Petticoat Junction," and "Gomer Pyle," and a new comedy, "Green Acres" (originally titled "Country Cousins") starring Eddie Albert.

CBS WAS the major network holdout against color until James T. Aubrey Jr. departed as CBS-TV president.

NBC, which steadily has been building its schedule of prime-time colorcasting over a period of years, has announced that all except two of its evening shows will be polychromed for the 1965-66 season.

CBS sources said Sullivan's show will come out of Hollywood for probably not more than five weeks next fall. Steve Lawrence's variety series will get into color "in a few weeks" after its debut, a spokesman said.

NBC NEWS has recruited actors Peter Ustinov and Jose Ferrer for roles in a major cultural project, "Michelangelo: the Last Giant," being readied for the 1965-66 season.

Two one-hour color programs on the life and works of the artist are being written and produced by Lou Hazam, who turned out NBC's award-winning studies of Vincent Van Gogh and William Shakespeare.

Hazam flew to Paris and got Ustinov to interrupt work on a new picture, "Lady L," which he is directing as well as acting in, with Sophia Loren and David Niven, and to spend two days recording the words of Michelangelo. His will be the off-camera voice of the artist.

Ferrer, currently on tour with "Around the World in 80 Days," went to New York for a day to tape sequences as narrator of the two hour-long shows.

Hazam will tell the Italian master's story through his paintings, sculpture, architecture, poetry and letters. The programs are booked for Dec. 22 and Feb. 23.

-:-

MGM-TV has decided "Dr. Kildare" needs some continuing sex appeal for the male viewer.

Lee Kurty, described by the studio as an "attractive" young stage actress, has been handed a regular role in the NBC hospital dramas beginning in the fall.

She will portray Zoe Lawton, a new head nurse of Blair Hospital, whose "youthfulness and appearance add to her conflicts in the position."

There have been girls off and on in the life of Dr. Kildare, but up to now Richard Chamberlain, of undoubted romantic appeal to the female audience, and Raymond Massey have been the series' only continuing characters.

Miss Kurty was seen on Broadway as Fred Clark's daughter in "Absence of a Cello." A native of Pittsburgh, she made her TV debut in a series of dramas on Pittsburgh's educational station.

Park Event Held By Cub Pack 36

Members of Cub Pack 36, sponsored by the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church, held an outing Wednesday night at Thompson Park, with a coverdish supper featured.

A "graduation" ceremony was conducted by Lynn R. Cowan, cubmaster, for Reed Lencse, Douglas Steebner and David Tittle. Don Lyle, scoutmaster of Troop 36, and Dick Blatchford, a life Scout, accepted the boys into the troop.

Jeffrey Schneider was inducted into the Weblos Pack of the Trinity Church.

Pack awards went to Brian Faulk and Gary Cunningham and to those who participated in the summer olympics on June 9.

Cowan reported on the Cubmobile race held June 5. The winners included Jeff Morgan of Den 4, first place; Jim Cunningham, Den 4, second, and Gary Black, Den 9, third. The prizes were donated by James Patterson of St. Clair Ave.

Under Ownership Of Al Gloeckner Jr.

New Restaurant Opens Doors Here

The new, modern restaurant above opened Wednesday at the corner of E. 3rd and College Sts. under the ownership of Al Gloeckner Jr. of 1100 Avondale St.

It is being managed by Wayne Clutter of 1201 Dresden Ave., who recently attended a school on restaurant management, including preparation techniques for hamburgers, chicken and other foods.

Operating under the name "Buddys," the restaurant will be open from 10 a.m. until 2 a.m. and will have an employe staff of 30—all girls.

The structure has a floor space of 2,420 square feet and has a parking lot capacity around the building itself of 32 cars. An additional 50 cars can be parked in another lot directly across College St.

With a seating capacity of 40 inside, Gloeckner said that the ultra-modern kitchen can turn out 2,116 hamburgers and 250 pounds of french fried potatoes an hour.

Also on the menu, he said, will be fish sandwiches, cheeseburgers, onion rings, chicken, pie and a wide assortment of soft drinks.

The general contractor for the restaurant was Jack Woomer of Homewood Ave. All local contractors were involved in the building's construction, Gloeckner pointed out.

He said he now has a total of 85 persons employed at Buddys and at Al's Atlantic station, where the Yellow Cab Co. also is located.

Humphrey-De Gaulle Visit May Better U.S.-French Ties

PARIS (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's 80-minute visit with President Charles de Gaulle last Sunday may prove to be a turning point for the better in the strained relations between France and the United States.

The two allies will continue to be at odds over such vital issues as Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But highly informed French sources feel Humphrey's call on the French president punctured a ballooning discord which had reached serious proportions.

The visit was considered a success on both sides.

Just how far they ranged in their talk is not publicly known. But they touched on mutual problems, and Humphrey seems to have carried it off well.

There was mention of a meeting between De Gaulle and Johnson but only in passing. The French president made clear he would like to meet the American President, but it was not said in a concrete way or as an oblique request that such a meeting be arranged.

Informed French sources say that a meeting of the two presidents would be of social value only unless there was opportunity for them to work out the problems dividing the two countries.

They feel that on such big issues as Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic there is nothing in sight which would resolve the sharp differences in opinion.

But there are signs that the French are more acutely aware, and perhaps concerned, over the drifting apart of the two traditional allies.

The payment in advance of a $178 million wartime U. S. loan to France, announced last week, was considered in some quarters as a favorable French gesture.

Some French officials feel that the two nations are not so far apart as they appear to be.

As one official put it: "We are with you basically on Viet Nam. We are not with you in the way you are trying to solve it and we favor a neutralized area."

Cleveland Area Industrialist Claimed At 82

CLEVELAND (AP) — James Finney Lincoln, 82, a leading industrialist and chairman of the board of the Lincoln Electric Co. in Euclid died in St. Luke's Hospital Wednesday.

He developed what was called "incentive management" and used it to make the company the world's largest manufacturer of arc welding machines and electrodes.

Lincoln, who entered the hospital Monday, was elected to the board of the Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. of Houston, Tex., Wednesday, shortly before his death.

He joined Lincoln Electric—founded by his older brother, John in 1907 after illness forced him to leave Ohio State University in his senior year. He became vice president in 1911 and president in 1928, a post he held until becoming chairman of the board in 1954.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

Color Breakthrough

Color TV is still bustin' out all over.

CBS, in a crash program to overtake NBC in prime-time colorcasting, has announced six more weekly series will be multi-hued next-season, bringing the total to 17. That's half the night-time lineup.

Richard Doan

Meanwhile, ABC reported that two more of its fall series, "Farmer's Daughter" and the new Burl Ives comedy, "O.K. Crackerby," have been added to the tint list.

That gives ABC seven night shows in color, not including Sunday night movies.

CBS AND ED SULLIVAN are both so anxious to convert his variety hour to color that the network will move Sullivan and his production crew to Hollywood, where there are color facilities, to start the season in September, bringing the show back here later when color equipment has been installed in a studio in CBS' new Broadcast Center in New York.

CBS conceded that not all of its added color will be in effect when the season opens. The new "Steve Lawrence Show" on Monday nights, coming out of New York, is tabbed for color, but will begin its run in September in black and white.

Added to the list of CBS shows coming on in color in September were three present series, Andy Griffith's comedy, "Petticoat Junction," and "Gomer Pyle," and a new comedy, "Green Acres" (originally titled "Country Cousins") starring Eddie Albert.

CBS WAS the major network holdout against color until James T. Aubrey Jr. departed as CBS-TV president.

NBC, which steadily has been building its schedule of prime-time colorcasting over a period of years, has announced that all except two of its evening shows will be polychromed for the 1965-66 season.

CBS sources said Sullivan's show will come out of Hollywood for probably not more than five weeks next fall. Steve Lawrence's variety series will get into color "in a few weeks" after its debut, a spokesman said.

NBC NEWS has recruited actors Peter Ustinov and Jose Ferrer for roles in a major cultural project, "Michelangelo: the Last Giant," being readied for the 1965-66 season.

Two one-hour color programs on the life and works of the artist are being written and produced by Lou Hazam, who turned out NBC's award-winning studies of Vincent Van Gogh and William Shakespeare.

Hazam flew to Paris and got Ustinov to interrupt work on a new picture, "Lady L," which he is directing as well as acting in, with Sophia Loren and David Niven, and to spend two days recording the words of Michelangelo. His will be the off-camera voice of the artist.

Ferrer, currently on tour with "Around the World in 80 Days," went to New York for a day to tape sequences as narrator of the two hour-long shows.

Hazam will tell the Italian master's story through his paintings, sculpture, architecture, poetry and letters. The programs are booked for Dec. 22 and Feb. 23.

-:-

MGM-TV has decided "Dr. Kildare" needs some continuing sex appeal for the male viewer.

Lee Kurty, described by the studio as an "attractive" young stage actress, has been handed a regular role in the NBC hospital dramas beginning in the fall.

She will portray Zoe Lawton, a new head nurse of Blair Hospital, whose "youthfulness and appearance add to her conflicts in the position."

There have been girls off and on in the life of Dr. Kildare, but up to now Richard Chamberlain, of undoubted romantic appeal to the female audience, and Raymond Massey have been the series' only continuing characters.

Miss Kurty was seen on Broadway as Fred Clark's daughter in "Absence of a Cello." A native of Pittsburgh, she made her TV debut in a series of dramas on Pittsburgh's educational station.

Park Event Held By Cub Pack 36

Members of Cub Pack 36, sponsored by the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church, held an outing Wednesday night at Thompson Park, with a coverdish supper featured.

A "graduation" ceremony was conducted by Lynn R. Cowan, cubmaster, for Reed Lencse, Douglas Steebner and David Tittle. Don Lyle, scoutmaster of Troop 36, and Dick Blatchford, a life Scout, accepted the boys into the troop.

Jeffrey Schneider was inducted into the Weblos Pack of the Trinity Church.

Pack awards went to Brian Faulk and Gary Cunningham and to those who participated in the summer olympics on June 9.

Cowan reported on the Cubmobile race held June 5. The winners included Jeff Morgan of Den 4, first place; Jim Cunningham, Den 4, second, and Gary Black, Den 9, third. The prizes were donated by James Patterson of St. Clair Ave.

A family picnic and swimming party will highlight the pack meeting July 29 at Lake Marwin.

Under Ownership Of Al Gloeckner Jr.

New Restaurant Opens Doors Here

The new, modern restaurant above opened Wednesday at the corner of E. 3rd and College Sts. under the ownership of Al Gloeckner Jr. of 1100 Avondale St.

It is being managed by Wayne Clutter of 1201 Dresden Ave., who recently attended a school on restaurant management, including preparation techniques for hamburgers, chicken and other foods.

Operating under the name "Buddys," the restaurant will be open from 10 a.m. until 2 a.m. and will have an employe staff of 30—all girls.

The structure has a floor space of 2,420 square feet and has a parking lot capacity around the building itself of 32 cars. An additional 50 cars can be parked in another lot directly across College St.

With a seating capacity of 40 inside, Gloeckner said that the ultra-modern kitchen can turn out 2,116 hamburgers and 250 pounds of french fried potatoes an hour.

Also on the menu, he said, will be fish sandwiches, cheeseburgers, onion rings, chicken, pie and a wide assortment of soft drinks.

The general contractor for the restaurant was Jack Woomer of Homewood Ave. All local contractors were involved in the building's construction, Gloeckner pointed out.

He said he now has a total of 85 persons employed at Buddys and at Al's Atlantic station, where the Yellow Cab Co. also is located.

Humphrey-De Gaulle Visit May Better U.S.-French Ties

PARIS (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's 80-minute visit with President Charles de Gaulle last Sunday may prove to be a turning point for the better in the strained relations between France and the United States.

The two allies will continue to be at odds over such vital issues as Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But highly informed French sources feel Humphrey's call on the French president punctured a ballooning discord which had reached serious proportions.

The visit was considered a success on both sides.

Just how far they ranged in their talk is not publicly known. But they touched on mutual problems, and Humphrey seems to have carried it off well.

There was mention of a meeting between De Gaulle and Johnson but only in passing. The French president made clear he would like to meet the American President, but it was not said in a concrete way or as an oblique request that such a meeting be arranged.

Informed French sources say that a meeting of the two presidents would be of social value only unless there was opportunity for them to work out the problems dividing the two countries.

They feel that on such big issues as Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic there is nothing in sight which would resolve the sharp differences in opinion.

But there are signs that the French are more acutely aware, and perhaps concerned, over the drifting apart of the two traditional allies.

The payment in advance of a $178 million wartime U. S. loan to France, announced last week, was considered in some quarters as a favorable French gesture.

Some French officials feel that the two nations are not so far apart as they appear to be.

As one official put it: "We are with you basically on Viet Nam. We are not with you in the way you are trying to solve it and we favor a neutralized area."

When you are molding cornmeal mush that is to be chilled, slice and fried, you can use one glass refrigerator dishes that comes with a cover.

Cleveland Area Industrialist Claimed At 82

CLEVELAND (AP) — James Finney Lincoln, 82, a leading industrialist and chairman of the board of the Lincoln Electric Co. in Euclid died in St. Luke's Hospital Wednesday.

He developed what was called "incentive management" and used it to make the company the world's largest manufacturer of arc welding machines and electrodes.

Lincoln, who entered the hospital Monday, was elected to the board of the Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. of Houston, Tex., Wednesday, shortly before his death.

He joined Lincoln Electric—founded by his older brother, John in 1907 after illness forced him to leave Ohio State University in his senior year. He became vice president in 1911 and president in 1928, a post he held until becoming chairman of the board in 1954.

Appeals Heard For U. N. To Seek Viet Nam Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate hears appeals today for peace-seeking intervention by the United Nations in Viet Nam and for full-scale congressional debate on whether the United States should fight a Korea-type war there.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, who has criticized the Johnson administration's Asian policies in the past, said in a prepared Senate speech that the United States should solicit U.N. services in a search for peace.

"I would propose," Church said, "that we abandon our unilateral posture in Viet Nam by soliciting the services of the United Nations in the search for a peaceful settlement."

Further, he said this country should "affirm our willingness to deal with the Viet Cong, as part of any delegation Hanoi may send to the conference table" and should "advocate genuine self-determination for the people of South Viet Nam," abiding by the outcome of an election on this question.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., called in a separate prepared speech for debate on how far the United States ought to go in supplying combat troops to fight against the Communists.

"The real question is not whether we are willing to send another 21,000 troops to Viet Nam to help the South Vietnamese during this summer's monsoon rains," Javits said. "It is whether we are prepared to send some hundreds of thousands of our troops into combat as we did in Korea, if necessary — for it may become necessary.

"It is whether we are ready to face the American casualties of a long, drawn-out land struggle — for we may have to. It is whether we are prepared to risk a confrontation with Communist China or the Soviet Union, for we may have to.

"The President may have the legal authority to make these decisions, but as a matter of policy they should not be made by him alone, without congressional approval and support."

Javits announced he was introducing a resolution under which the President could take "all necessary steps" to restore peace in South Viet Nam.

He said it should supersede a resolution passed by Congress last August authorizing the President to take all necessary measures to pursue the war against the Viet Cong because at the time use of U.S. combat troops was not contemplated. Johnson relies heavily on this resolution as authority for the moves he makes.

Javits told the Senate: "The decisions that the administration must take in the weeks ahead are decisions which could vitally affect the entire nation, and they should be discussed and debated by the representatives of the entire nation in Congress, with the stark facts laid out before us. Then whatever we decide to do will be done by a strong and determined people, united behind their President in one of the major decisions in our history."

The Church and Javits speeches were scheduled after Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the American Foreign Service Association Wednesday that "we must expect" continuing heavy casualties on both sides in the Viet Nam fighting, with an increase in U.S. losses.

Asian-African Summit Talks Facing Delay

ALGIERS (AP) — The long-heralded Asian-African summit conference faced almost certain postponement today as diplomats met to consider a possible new date for the talks.

A majority of the score or so of Asian-African foreign ministers in Algiers for a preliminary meeting appeared to favor postponement. Numerous delegations were marking time in their home capitals, and a number of them urged that the conference be delayed because of the unrest following Col. Houari Boumedienne's coup.

The conference preparatory committee of ambassadors was expected to draft a face-saving formula to justify postponement of the talks—scheduled to open Tuesday — without offending Boumedinne's new military regime.

Boumedienne's opponents meanwhile called for a mass demonstration in Algiers' Mohamed Khemisti Square Friday night to protest the army coup that ousted President Ahmed Ben Bella on Saturday.

A tract distributed by local demonstrators denounced Boumedienne as "a traitor" and called on Algerians to rise up and put an end to his "fascist dictatorship."

For the past three nights, police and military squads have used tear gas, water jets and warning shots to disperse hundreds demonstrating for Ben Bella.

Maj. Si Slimane, the deputy chief of staff and one of Boumedienne's top aides, held a news conference to explain the reasons for the coup.

Fair's Plans Progressing

LISBON — A Junior Fair Board representative met with the Columbiana County Fair Board Wednesday night at the fairgrounds and listed projects in preparation for the 120th annual exposition Aug. 25-29.

James Miller of the junior board said the young people plan to paint the inside of the 4-H building, ceilings and sides down to the booths; whitewash the Junior Fair dairy barn and Senior Fair beef barn; install fans in gable ends of the Junior Fair dairy barn; install a drinking fountain in the 4-H building, and put sawdust in the dairy barns and coliseum as in the past. The Senior Fair Board agreed to furnish the materials for these projects.

The Peoples Lumber Co. of Columbiana began work Monday on the construction of a 54-by-96-foot pole-type barn for horses and ponies. It is located immediately south of the coliseum.

The board is painting the grandstand stage this week and will repair the chain-link fence at the north end of the race track. It was damaged by a falling tree.

Miss Ann Overturf, county extension agent in home economics, met with wives of the fair board members to plan for the culinary and arts department in the Floral Hall.

Tentative plans are for three demonstrations daily, 1:30, 2:30 and 3:30, on the following subjects — low-calorie foods, regional foods or specialties in various localities of the United States and tips on repairing small appliances.

The board's next meeting will be July 14 in the secretary's office at the fairgrounds.

Appeals Heard For U. N. To Seek Viet Nam Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate hears appeals today for peace-seeking intervention by the United Nations in Viet Nam and for full-scale congressional debate on whether the United States should fight a Korea-type war there.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, who has criticized the Johnson administration's Asian policies in the past, said in a prepared Senate speech that the United States should solicit U.N. services in a search for peace.

"I would propose," Church said, "that we abandon our unilateral posture in Viet Nam by soliciting the services of the United Nations in the search for a peaceful settlement."

Further, he said this country should "affirm our willingness to deal with the Viet Cong, as part of any delegation Hanoi may send to the conference table" and should "advocate genuine self-determination for the people of South Viet Nam," abiding by the outcome of an election on this question.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., called in a separate prepared speech for debate on how far the United States ought to go in supplying combat troops to fight against the Communists.

"The real question is not whether we are willing to send another 21,000 troops to Viet Nam to help the South Vietnamese during this summer's monsoon rains," Javits said. "It is whether we are prepared to send some hundreds of thousands of our troops into combat as we did in Korea, if necessary — for it may become necessary.

"It is whether we are ready to face the American casualties of a long, drawn-out land struggle — for we may have to. It is whether we are prepared to risk a confrontation with Communist China or the Soviet Union, for we may have to.

"The President may have the legal authority to make these decisions, but as a matter of policy they should not be made by him alone, without congressional approval and support."

Javits announced he was introducing a resolution under which the President could take "all necessary steps" to restore peace in South Viet Nam.

He said it should supersede a resolution passed by Congress last August authorizing the President to take all necessary measures to pursue the war against the Viet Cong because at the time use of U.S. combat troops was not contemplated. Johnson relies heavily on this resolution as authority for the moves he makes.

Javits told the Senate: "The decisions that the administration must take in the weeks ahead are decisions which could vitally affect the entire nation, and they should be discussed and debated by the representatives of the entire nation in Congress, with the stark facts laid out before us. Then whatever we decide to do will be done by a strong and determined people, united behind their President in one of the major decisions in our history."

The Church and Javits speeches were scheduled after Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the American Foreign Service Association Wednesday that "we must expect" continuing heavy casualties on both sides in the Viet Nam fighting, with an increase in U.S. losses.

Asian-African Summit Talks Facing Delay

ALGIERS (AP) — The long-heralded Asian-African summit conference faced almost certain postponement today as diplomats met to consider a possible new date for the talks.

A majority of the score or so of Asian-African foreign ministers in Algiers for a preliminary meeting appeared to favor postponement. Numerous delegations were marking time in their home capitals, and a number of them urged that the conference be delayed because of the unrest following Col. Houari Boumedienne's coup.

The conference preparatory committee of ambassadors was expected to draft a face-saving formula to justify postponement of the talks—scheduled to open Tuesday — without offending Boumedinne's new military regime.

Boumedienne's opponents meanwhile called for a mass demonstration in Algiers' Mohamed Khemisti Square Friday night to protest the army coup that ousted President Ahmed Ben Bella on Saturday.

A tract distributed by local demonstrators denounced Boumedienne as "a traitor" and called on Algerians to rise up and put an end to his "fascist dictatorship."

For the past three nights, police and military squads have used tear gas, water jets and warning shots to disperse hundreds demonstrating for Ben Bella.

Maj. Si Slimane, the deputy chief of staff and one of Boumedienne's top aides, held a news conference to explain the reasons for the coup.

Fair's Plans Progressing

LISBON — A Junior Fair Board representative met with the Columbiana County Fair Board Wednesday night at the fairgrounds and listed projects in preparation for the 120th annual exposition Aug. 25-29.

James Miller of the junior board said the young people plan to paint the inside of the 4-H building, ceilings and sides down to the booths; whitewash the Junior Fair dairy barn and Senior Fair beef barn; install fans in gable ends of the Junior Fair dairy barn; install a drinking fountain in the 4-H building, and put sawdust in the dairy barns and coliseum as in the past. The Senior Fair Board agreed to furnish the materials for these projects.

The Peoples Lumber Co. of Columbiana began work Monday on the construction of a 54-by-96-foot pole-type barn for horses and ponies. It is located immediately south of the coliseum.

The board is painting the grandstand stage this week and will repair the chain-link fence at the north end of the race track. It was damaged by a falling tree.

Miss Ann Overturf, county extension agent in home economics, met with wives of the fair board members to plan for the culinary and arts department in the Floral Hall.

Tentative plans are for three demonstrations daily, 1:30, 2:30 and 3:30, on the following subjects — low-calorie foods, regional foods or specialties in various localities of the United States and tips on repairing small appliances.

The board's next meeting will be July 14 in the secretary's office at the fairgrounds.

Senate Begins Voting Today On Coins Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins voting today on the silver-coinage bill, with a major test set on whether to retain any silver in the half dollar.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he hoped the bill would be passed by tonight.

As submitted by President Johnson and approved in the Senate Banking Committee, the measure would eliminate all silver in dimes and quarters but retain a 40 per cent content in half dollars. All three now have 90 per cent silver.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., whose state uses silver for industrial purposes, proposed to revise the legislation to eliminate all silver in the half dollar as well. Both sides said they expected the result to be close.

Western senators from silver-producing states not only were fighting Pastore's proposal but said they would offer an amendment of their own to keep 40 per cent silver in dimes and quarters. However, their proposal appeared to have only a slim chance.

Pastore declared, "There just isn't enough silver to go around. It makes no sense to continue with it in the half dollar when we're getting rid of it in the 10- and 25-cent pieces."

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., supporting the Pastore amendment, said that "the extra 40 per cent silver left in the half dollars will result in a waste of 20 million ounces of silver."

Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., fighting the amendment, said, "I will not be a party to debasing our coinage for the purpose of supplying any private industry with our valuable silver bullion."

But another mining-state senator, Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, said he considered the bill worked out by the administration a "practical, objective, workable and reasonable" step toward solving the nation's silver deficit.

Bones Uncovered At Shippingport

A huge tusk and other bones of what is believed to have been a mastodon, a large, shaggy elephant - type animal that roamed the world in pre-historic days, was uncovered late Wednesday at Shippingport.

The bones were found at the site of the Shippingport Sand and Gravel Co. in the north end of Shippingport.

They were spotted by Ralph Mortimer of Shippingport, operator of a power shovel.

—:—

KEITH GOODMAN of East Liverpool, plant officer clerk, is shown holding a tooth that was found, while Richard Thompson of East Liverpool, secretary of the Aboriginal Explorers Club, inspects the remains of the large tusk.

The bones were uncovered about 60 feet down. The tusk, estimated to have once been about 9 feet long, measures 70 inches.

Another piece of tusk about 30 inches long also was found, along with two teeth, a shoulder bone and some leg bones.

Thompson said the bones are in good shape considering the thousands of years they have been buried.

Bud Dibert, plant superintendent, said that other bones have been discovered in the past. Another tusk was found some years ago along with other teeth.

—:—

THE TUSK discovered yesterday weighs about 100 pounds. It took three men to lift it out of the hole. It is 10 inches in diameter at the largest end. The teeth each are about a foot long and six inches wide.

Nothing more was found today when digging resumed, although the shovel was being used on a different level.

All the bones were together. Thompson said the mastodon was hunted by the Paleo Indians about 18,000 years ago.

This is the first reported find of this nature in several years. Similar bones were found in the early 1800's when a road was being constructed between Wellsville and East Liverpool, while other bones were found on a road project near Lisbon more than 50 years ago.

Pole Sheared As Steel Coils Break Loose

Steel coils that broke loose from a drifting tractor - trailer rig ripped down a power pole along Route 30 on Cannons Mills Hill Wednesday night at 9:57.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the semi - rig is owned by the Kayco Trucking Co. of East Liverpool.

The truck was parked along the east side of the highway, headed north. It had been parked about two hours after the brakes failed and the rig drifted over the blocks placed under the wheels.

The driverless truck rolled backwards down the hill, crossed over the highway and went into a ditch.

Two large steel coils loaded on the trailer broke loose, rolled off and sheared off the pole.

The accident still is under investigation.

Four other area mishaps also were investigated yesterday by the patrol.

Carol Elaine Virden, 30, of the Cannons Mills Rd. suffered a minor injury when her 1957 sedan was struck in the rear at 1:15 p. m. on Route 30, two and six - tenths miles south of Route 7.

She had stopped for a car making a left turn and was hit in the rear by another car operated by Harry Woolmaker, 25, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, the patrol reported. Woolmaker was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Woolmaker's car suffered moderate damage, but the woman's car was demolished.

Larry J. Roberts, 16, of R.D. 2 escaped injury when a wrecker truck he was driving rolled down a 15-foot embankment on Township Rd. 1040, a mile and a half east of Route 170 Wednesday night at 10:45.

The wrecker is owned by the Roberts service station on Route 30. The vehicle went off the left side and rolled over, officers said.

Carol Jones, 36, of 346½ S. Main St., Columbiana, was injured when she wrecked her car on Route 7, a mile and three-tenths south of Rogers yesterday at 12:45 p. m.

The patrol said she suffered possible back and right leg injuries. She was taken to Salem City Hospital for treatment in the emergency car of the Negley volunteer fire department.

She lost control of the vehicle on a right curve. It went off the right side of the highway, spun around and then rammed an embankment.

Cars operated by Harry R. Mellinger Jr., 39, of Leetonia R. D. 2 and Joan Marie Gason, 29, of 418 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, were involved in a crash Wednesday at 12:10 p. m. on Route 164, north of Lisbon. Mellinger who was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way, pulled from a side road into the path of the Gaston vehicle, officers reported.

Application forms are available in the ASCS county office at 41 N. Park Ave.

Racial Relations Statement Adopted By Methodist Group

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP) — A race relations statment urging a publically announced policy of "racially inclusive memberships" was adopted Wednesday by delegates to the annual meeting of the North-East Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church.

All churches in the conference were urged to increase their memberships with members of various races. Persons making ministerial appointments were asked to ignore race in making conference church assignments which will be announced Saturday night.

Citing housing discrimination as "a major cause for the perpetuating of racial segregation," Methodists were urged to oppose racial discrimination in housing.

Messages are being sent Gov. James A. Rhodes and Ohio legislators stating opposition to Senate Bill 189 as an "inadequate piece of fair-housing legislation" and endorsing House Bill 440, which the conference statement says is broader in scope and provides for effective legal safeguards.

Hitting Clothes 'Flashed' In IL

By The Associated Press

The hitting clothes are really in evidence in the International League now.

Four games were played around the league Wednesday night, and only in one did the two teams involved fail to combine for a final score in double figures. Syracuse and Atlanta scored a total of nine runs in the second game of their doubleheader.

Jacksonville defeated Rochester 11-8, Syracuse walloped Atlanta 9-1 in the first game before the Crackers came back to take the nightcap 5-4, and Columbus edged Buffalo 6-4. Toronto's game at Toledo was postponed by wet grounds.

Buffalo came up with three homers in the late innings, but Columbus staved off the Bisons while winning their third straight. Bill Knoch won his third game against the Bisons to stretch his record to 5-3.

Racial Relations Statement Adopted By Methodist Group

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP) — A race relations statment urging a publically announced policy of "racially inclusive memberships" was adopted Wednesday by delegates to the annual meeting of the North-East Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church.

All churches in the conference were urged to increase their memberships with members of various races. Persons making ministerial appointments were asked to ignore race in making conference church assignments which will be announced Saturday night.

Citing housing discrimination as "a major cause for the perpetuating of racial segregation," Methodists were urged to oppose racial discrimination in housing.

Messages are being sent Gov. James A. Rhodes and Ohio legislators stating opposition to Senate Bill 189 as an "inadequate piece of fair-housing legislation" and endorsing House Bill 440, which the conference statement says is broader in scope and provides for effective legal safeguards.

Hitting Clothes 'Flashed' In IL

By The Associated Press

The hitting clothes are really in evidence in the International League now.

Four games were played around the league Wednesday night, and only in one did the two teams involved fail to combine for a final score in double figures. Syracuse and Atlanta scored a total of nine runs in the second game of their doubleheader.

Jacksonville defeated Rochester 11-8, Syracuse walloped Atlanta 9-1 in the first game before the Crackers came back to take the nightcap 5-4, and Columbus edged Buffalo 6-4. Toronto's game at Toledo was postponed by wet grounds.

Buffalo came up with three homers in the late innings, but Columbus staved off the Bisons while winning their third straight. Bill Knoch won his third game against the Bisons to stretch his record to 5-3.

4-Day Strike By Teamsters Cuts Supplies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Supplies of food, gasoline and drugs in many retail outlets continued to dwindle today as a strike by members of Teamsters Local 107 in southeastern Pennsylvania and Delaware entered its fourth day.

And 17 leaders of the local were called back into court for a continued hearing before Judge Leo Weinrott on contempt of court charges, stemming from an injunction against the strike.

Weinrott called the walkout by some of the 12,000 members of the giant local "a bit of anarchy." The international union said the strike is unauthorized.

In another development Wednesday, Mayor James H.J. Tate said the strike is "out of control" of responsible union leaders. Tate said local officials can't control "the hoodlums" who halted some truck shipments and forced the use of police escorts for more than 700 vehicles.

The mayor also said Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds was asked to assist in negotiating a settlement to the strike. The walkout started Monday in support of four Teamsters members who were fired by Roadway Express, Inc., for refusing to perform work they considered hazardous. Roadway drivers have been on strike since June 11.

Although milk and bread have been delivered regularly, fruit and vegetable stocks in stores were running low. Food-chain operators said that with the few deliveries made under police protection stocks are sufficient for a while.

Gasoline supplies also were being exhausted. The city began rationing fuel used in its vehicles.

Most hospitals reported they were receiving food supplies and normal service was being maintained with only slight changes in menus.

Two Wellsville cars were damaged in a collision Wednesday at 2:25 p. m. on E. 6th St. near St. Clair Ave. and a parked auto was struck by a truck in an earlier mishap, police reported.

The E. 6th St. collision involved a 1965 model station wagon driven by Richard Livolsi, 27, of 905 Center St., Wellsville, and a 1960 four-door sedan operated by Louis Roberts, 48, of 1014 Commerce St., Wellsville.

Livolsi told police he halted for another auto which was maneuvering into a parking space and his car then was hit from the rear. Roberts told officers he attempted to halt, but his car slid on wet pavement.

The second mishap, timed at 10:22 a. m. on St. Clair Ave. near Walsh Alley, involved a parked 1963 four - door sedan owned by Frank Musiolowski of Melbourne Ave., Glenmoor, and a 1965 model truck operated by Frank Paul Quetot, 35, of Rogers and owned by the 20th Century Chemists Paint Products Co. of Youngstown.

World's Biggest Balloon Passes Its First Trials

BEDFORD, England (AP) — What is billed as the world's biggest balloon has passed its first trials.

The balloon is 137 feet long, 52 feet in diameter, and has a capacity of 156,000 cubic feet. Costing $42,000, it was made and had its first test at the Royal Air Force Station at Cardington, near here.

Leslie Speed, 59, designed it with the idea of carrying timber out of otherwise inaccessible forests in Canada's British Columbia. It is designed to lift three-ton logs clear of forests and load them on trucks. It also can drag a log weighing six tons.

Speed said to build roads in the logging area would cost $140,000 a mile — and the roads could be washed away by rain and snow.

The balloon is being prepared for the sea journey to Canada.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1948, Russia blockaded all land traffic between Berlin and West Germany. On June 25 U.S. and British planes began to supply the occupied city — in the airlift which lasted 321 days.

On this date:

In 1520, the Spanish conqueror of Mexico, Hernando Cortez, entered Mexico City.

Mayo Clinic Disavows 'Magic' Diet

The feminine mind is intrigued by strange food combinations and fascinated by any diet which promises to be reducing. Currently, a diet is being passed from office to office which is called the Mayo Magic Diet or Mayo Egg Diet. The instructions state that you can eat as many as 12 eggs a day or stuff until you cannot eat any more of the so-called "magic" combination of foods.

Ida Jean Kain

First, let me state emphatically — this is not from the Mayo Clinic! In an earnest attempt to disavow such a ridiculous and harmful diet, the Mayo Clinic issued the following statement which appeared in the New England Journal of Medicine for May.

"A STEADILY increasing volume of inquiries from physicians, dietitians and patients from all parts of the country concerning so - called Mayo Diet, Mayo Egg Diet, Mayo Reducing Diet. . .are all falsely attributed to the Mayo Clinic. These point up the latest resurgence in diet - fads and also pose a genuine concern to us. None of these diets originated at the Mayo Clinic and none bears any resemblance to diets we use at the Mayo Clinic and its associated hospitals.

"We are anxious to disclaim any connection with the numerous bizarre diets usually circulated from person to person in mimeographed form. We would appreciate any information regarding their sources. We are sure that the readers of the Journal can be of help in informing the dieting public of the uncertain origin of these faddy diets."

This statement was signed by H. M. Hoffman, M.D. Chairman, Committee on Dietetics, Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota.

Physicians of the Passaic, Bergen and Essex County Medical Societies in New Jersey, issue this warning:

"THIS MISNAMED 'Mayo Clinic Magic Diet' violates every concept of dieting, particularly the teaching of proper food habits.

"It (the diet) sounds like the old Roman orgies. . .it preaches such things as 'the more you eat of the proper combination the more you lose' and 'stuff until you cannot eat any more.'

"Such self-stuffing can lead to an acute coronary attack. Any woman who urges her husband to go on such a diet condemns him to a greater risk of a heart attack."

The report concluded: "It is not a balanced diet, since it permits very little carbohydrate. Thus anyone going on an absurd regimen like that to lose weight would be exposed to a sudden weight increase at the first intake of carbohydrates because there is then a tendency to absorb water."

Your dietitian has been writing a weight control column for a quarter of a century. Instead of fighting such fads, I try to go ahead with a positive plan emphasizing the rewards of good nutrition. What I want to know is, why do intelligent people continue to be fooled by ridiculous and harmful faddy diets? Why?

House, Senate Approval Seen

Presidential Disability Plan OKd By Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees finally have agreed on a constitutional amendment for the determination of presidential disability and succession.

A deadlock that persisted for two months and threatened to kill the proposal finally was resolved Wednesday night, and prompt approval of the final version by both House and Senate is expected.

The agreement reached by the conferees would give Congress 21 days to decide the issue when the vice president contests the right of a once disabled president to resume office. The House had fixed a 10-day limit; the Senate had set no limit.

The proposed amendment also provides for the succession to the presidency of the vice president — now a matter of custom, but without constitutional sanction — and prescribes a method for insuring that the vice presidency always will be filled.

The drive for such an amendment began after President Dwight D. Eisenhower had been disabled by a heart attack in 1955 and picked up speed after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in 1963. Several varied views on how the amendment should be worded were distilled by the American Bar Association into a set of principles that both House and Senate accepted.

On the question of keeping the vice presidency filled, the amendment provides that the president would nominate a person to fill a vacancy, subject to approval by majority vote of both houses of Congress.

The question of presidential disability is divided into two parts: when the president voluntarily declares himself unable to carry out his duties, and when he does not make such a declaration.

In the first case, the vice president takes over the presidential duties only until the president declares himself able to resume them.

In the second case, the vice president and a majority of the Cabinet may declare a president unable to carry on, whereupon the vice president immediately assumes the powers of the office.

Thereafter, when the president sends Congress a written declaration that no disability exists, he is reinstated at once, unless the vice president and a majority of the Cabinet declare in writing that he is not capable of discharging his duties.

Congress then would have to decide the issue, and it would take a two-thirds vote of both Houses to determine that the president is disabled and that the vice president should continue to carry out his duties. Under the agreement reached Wednesday, Congress would have to act within 21 days, or the president automatically would resume his powers of office.

You can prepare a delicious dressing for wedges of lettuce by mixing mayonnaise with chili sauce, the pulp and juice from finely grated onion, lemon juice and a dash of cayenne.

Twins' Homers Snap Indians' Victory Streak At 10

Retain Lead As White Sox And Nats Split

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Juan Pizarro still is a step behind Gary Peters.

The P and P pitching partners were the toast of Chicago last year as Peters won 20 games and Pizarro 19.

And Peters still is out front. He's only been relegated to the bullpen. Pizarro's been relegated to the sidelines.

Both of Manager Al Lopez' problems were in action Wednesday night, Peters making a rare appearance as a reliever and Pizarro making one of his infrequent starts, as the White Sox split a doubleheader with Washington, losing the opener 5-1 before taking the nightcap 5-0.

Pizarro, who posted a 19-9 record with a 2.56 earned run average last season, made only his seventh start of the season in the opener and made his seventh quick exit, leaving in the second inning after surrendering three hits and two runs.

The 28-year-old left-hander has a pitiful 1-2 record and a horrendous 7.20 ERA.

Peters, who compiled a 20-8 record with a 2.50 ERA in 1964, came out of the bullpen for the firrst time this season in the eighth inning of the nightcap, pitched to and retired one batter, and then sat down while Eddie Fisher pitched the ninth.

Like Pizarro a 28-year-old southpaw, Peters' difficulties have been similar to his partner's. Peters has a 5-5 record but has been able to complete only one of 14 starts and has a hefty 4.00 ERA.

"If Pizarro and Peters had pitched so far as they did last year," Lopez said, "we'd be five or six games up from where we are now."

As it is the White Sox are just one game in back of the front-running Minnesota Twins, who rode three homers to a 6-3 victory over Cleveland that ended the Indians' winning streak at 10.

Elsewhere, Detroit blanked the Los Angeles Angels behind Hank Aguirre's four-hit pitching, Baltimore downed Boston 6-4 and the New York Yankees walloped Kansas City 8-3.

In the National League, San Francisco belted Pittsburgh 6-1, Cincinnati defeated St. Louis 6-2 and Milwaukee whipped the Chicago Cubs 6-2.

Doug Camilli proved Pizarro's undoing in the opener, driving in two runs in the second with a single. Pete Richert took it from there, scattering six White Sox hits and bringing his record to 5-5.

Peters and Fisher preserved John Buzhardt's seventh victory against a single loss in the nightcap. Ron Hansen drove in three runs with a double and single and was aboard with a single in the eighth when Dave Nicholson homered.

Jimmie Hall connected for a homer in the second inning for the Twins' first run, Bob Allison hit a pinch-hit homer with two on in the fourth to put Minnesota ahead to stay and Sandy Valdespino wrapped it up with a two-run shot in the fifth. Jim Grant, 7-2, was the winner.

Aguirre, who has lost only two games, became the AL's first nine-game winner as he posted his fifth straight victory and also drove in the only run he needed against the Angels with a second-inning single.

The Orioles scored three unearned runs in the fourth inning, then held on against a late Red Sox homer barrage. Steve Barber, who had allowed only one hit, was shelled for homers by Carl Yastrzemski and Tony Conigliaro. Reliever Stu Miller then was tagged for one by Bob Tillman before settling down.

Ray Barker hit his third homer in four games as the Yankees cut loose for eight runs in the first two innings against the A's. Whitey Ford won his fifth in a row, bringing his record to 8-6 with Steve Hamilton's relief help.

Gallagher's Win Pitcher's Battle, 4-2

Gallagher's Market shaded Hancock Savings & Loan, 4-2, Wednesday night in a pitcher's battle in the Chester Softball League.

Gerry Bryson and John Clendening each allowed only three hits, with Gallagher's bunching all three of their safeties with a fielder's choice to score three times in the sixth.

Sparkling fielding plays were turned in by Vern Jones and Don Glass for Hancock and Gail Talbott for Gallagher's.

Chester Merchants meet Globe Brick tonight at 6:45.

Riverview Tops Realtors In Colt League, 6 To 4

Riverview pushed across two runs in the bottom of the fifth Wednesday as the Florists shaded Realtors, 6-4, in a Colt League battle called in the sixth because of darkness.

The victory tacked three more points onto Riverview's standings in the loop race.

Mike McVey twirled a four-hitter as Hasala, nicked for three runs in the first, and Ed Golden, the loser, combined to permit only five. Golden relieved in the second.

Mike Goodballet ripped a double and a single for the Florists and Golden collected a pair of singles for the losers.

Bucks Land Four Of 20 Floor Stars

MARION, Ohio (AP)— Ohio State has landed four of the 20 prep basketball stars gathered here for Saturday night's North-South All-Star Classic.

Two others have enrolled at Dayton, a pair are still undecided and the others are headed for 12 schools in six states.

Jeff Miller and John Halley of the North squad and Steve Howell and Larry Hisle of the South will be opposing each other Saturday. But they'll be teammates on the Bucks' freshman team this winter.

Miller, a 6-foot-5 All-Ohio performer from Lima Shawnee, is expected to be the Yankees' big offensive gun against the Rebels.

Hisle, 6-2 and from Portsmouth, also is an outstanding baseball player, and figures to play both sports at Ohio State.

Halley, 6-2, is from Vermilion, and Howell, Columbus Eastmoor's rugged 6-5 forward, is counted on to give the Buckeyes needed board strength.

The South's Bob Arnzen, a 6-5 ace who starred for Cincinnati St. Xavier, is going to Notre Dame.

To Face Gonzalez

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight champion Emile Griffith steps up into the middleweight class again on July 13 when he will meet Joe Gonzalez, a rugged 160-pounder, at Madison Square Garden, in a non-title 10-rounder. Griffith accepted the bout Wednesday.

Wheeling High Names New Football Coach

WHEELING (AP) — Sam Sirianni, 28-year-old Clarksburg native who starred as a Marshall University back, has been named head foootball coach at Wheeling High School.

How do you tell Thom McAn's Possums from those other brushed pigskin critters?

The quickest way is to look at the price tag. Thom McAn Possums are one-heck-of-a-buy.

They're made of soft, seasoned, water-repellent, dirt-resistant, genuine brushed pigskin. The soles and heels are thick, soft, cushion foam that won't slip, slide, scar or mar. And deep down inside they have a spine of steel: a steel shank for true shoe comfort and support.

Reds And Braves Stop Cards' Cubs

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I can't feel a streak coming on. And I don't know I'm on one until I see those hits fall in and that average go up."

That's what Willie Mays says.

Well, check the figures, Willie. You're on another one of your streaks. And this one has lifted you even with Stan Musial.

Mays sparked the San Francisco Giants to a 6-1 victory over Pittsburgh Wednesday with a home run — the 475th of his career, tying Musial at second place on the all-time National League list.

Mel Ott's 511 tops that list and there's little doubt that he eventually will be supplanted by Mays, now 34 and a Giant since 1951.

Willie added a single to his homer against the Pirates, making him 10-for-15 in his last four games and zooming his average 22 points to .346, first in the league. His season homer total of 22 leads the majors.

Also in the NL — Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 6-2 behind Jim Maloney's pitching and some hefty hitting, and Milwaukee beat Chicago 6-2 as Wade Blasingame pitched a four-hitter and Cub right-hander Larry Jackson suffered another setback. The other clubs were idle.

In the American League — Minnesota ended Cleveland's winning string at 10 games, 6-3; the Chicago White Sox split with Washington, winning 5-0 after a 5-1 loss; Baltimore downed Boston 6-4; Detroit blanked Los Angeles 2-0, and New York bombed Kansas City 8-3.

Mays tagged Bob Veale for his homer in the second inning, then the Giants added a run in the fourth and finally chased the prize Pirate left-hander in the four-run seventh — helped by Donn Clendenon's two costly errors.

Ron Herbel was the winning pitcher with five shutout innings after taking over in the third for Jack Sanford, who went out with a pulled groin muscle.

Maloney, who pitched 10 no-hit innings in that celebrated loss to the New York Mets last week, set down the first 14 Cardinals in order and finished with a six-hitter. Frank Robinson tripled and doubled and scored three Cincinnati runs, Deron Johnson added three hits and Vada Pinson homered. Curt Simmons was the loser.

Blasingame, the Braves' young slowballing southpaw, gave up a run in the first inning on a walk, Glenn Beckert's single and Billy Williams' sacrifice fly. He then held the Cubs hitless until Williams homered in the seventh.

Joe Torre supported his pitcher admirably with a three-run homer in the first off Jackson — the majors' top winner last year with 24 victories and now the majors' leading loser with 10 defeats.

Sox And Apaches Win HIH Games

Hammondsville's Red Sox nosed out the Salineville Cubs, 6-4, and the Highlandtown Apaches blasted the Highlandtown Colts, 22-13, Wednesday in the HIH Junior League.

Furbee was the winning pitcher for the Red Sox and Parsons the loser.

Chick Jarvis was the winner for the Apaches and Bob Boyles the loser. Kim Boyd rapped a home run for the Colts.

Twins' Homers Snap Indians' Victory Streak At 10

Retain Lead As White Sox And Nats Split

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Juan Pizarro still is a step behind Gary Peters.

The P and P pitching partners were the toast of Chicago last year as Peters won 20 games and Pizarro 19.

And Peters still is out front. He's only been relegated to the bullpen. Pizarro's been relegated to the sidelines.

Both of Manager Al Lopez' problems were in action Wednesday night, Peters making a rare appearance as a reliever and Pizarro making one of his infrequent starts, as the White Sox split a doubleheader with Washington, losing the opener 5-1 before taking the nightcap 5-0.

Pizarro, who posted a 19-9 record with a 2.56 earned run average last season, made only his seventh start of the season in the opener and made his seventh quick exit, leaving in the second inning after surrendering three hits and two runs.

The 28-year-old left-hander has a pitiful 1-2 record and a horrendous 7.20 ERA.

Peters, who compiled a 20-8 record with a 2.50 ERA in 1964, came out of the bullpen for the firrst time this season in the eighth inning of the nightcap, pitched to and retired one batter, and then sat down while Eddie Fisher pitched the ninth.

Like Pizarro a 28-year-old southpaw, Peters' difficulties have been similar to his partner's. Peters has a 5-5 record but has been able to complete only one of 14 starts and has a hefty 4.00 ERA.

"If Pizarro and Peters had pitched so far as they did last year," Lopez said, "we'd be five or six games up from where we are now."

As it is the White Sox are just one game in back of the front-running Minnesota Twins, who rode three homers to a 6-3 victory over Cleveland that ended the Indians' winning streak at 10.

Elsewhere, Detroit blanked the Los Angeles Angels behind Hank Aguirre's four-hit pitching, Baltimore downed Boston 6-4 and the New York Yankees walloped Kansas City 8-3.

In the National League, San Francisco belted Pittsburgh 6-1, Cincinnati defeated St. Louis 6-2 and Milwaukee whipped the Chicago Cubs 6-2.

Doug Camilli proved Pizarro's undoing in the opener, driving in two runs in the second with a single. Pete Richert took it from there, scattering six White Sox hits and bringing his record to 5-5.

Peters and Fisher preserved John Buzhardt's seventh victory against a single loss in the nightcap. Ron Hansen drove in three runs with a double and single and was aboard with a single in the eighth when Dave Nicholson homered.

Jimmie Hall connected for a homer in the second inning for the Twins' first run, Bob Allison hit a pinch-hit homer with two on in the fourth to put Minnesota ahead to stay and Sandy Valdespino wrapped it up with a two-run shot in the fifth. Jim Grant, 7-2, was the winner.

Aguirre, who has lost only two games, became the AL's first nine-game winner as he posted his fifth straight victory and also drove in the only run he needed against the Angels with a second-inning single.

The Orioles scored three unearned runs in the fourth inning, then held on against a late Red Sox homer barrage. Steve Barber, who had allowed only one hit, was shelled for homers by Carl Yastrzemski and Tony Conigliaro. Reliever Stu Miller then was tagged for one by Bob Tillman before settling down.

Ray Barker hit his third homer in four games as the Yankees cut loose for eight runs in the first two innings against the A's. Whitey Ford won his fifth in a row, bringing his record to 8-6 with Steve Hamilton's relief help.

Gallagher's Win Pitcher's Battle, 4-2

Gallagher's Market shaded Hancock Savings & Loan, 4-2, Wednesday night in a pitcher's battle in the Chester Softball League.

Gerry Bryson and John Clendening each allowed only three hits, with Gallagher's bunching all three of their safeties with a fielder's choice to score three times in the sixth.

Sparkling fielding plays were turned in by Vern Jones and Don Glass for Hancock and Gail Talbott for Gallagher's.

Chester Merchants meet Globe Brick tonight at 6:45.

Riverview Tops Realtors In Colt League, 6 To 4

Riverview pushed across two runs in the bottom of the fifth Wednesday as the Florists shaded Realtors, 6-4, in a Colt League battle called in the sixth because of darkness.

The victory tacked three more points onto Riverview's standings in the loop race.

Mike McVey twirled a four-hitter as Hasala, nicked for three runs in the first, and Ed Golden, the loser, combined to permit only five. Golden relieved in the second.

Bucks Land Four Of 20 Floor Stars

MARION, Ohio (AP)— Ohio State has landed four of the 20 prep basketball stars gathered here for Saturday night's North-South All-Star Classic.

Two others have enrolled at Dayton, a pair are still undecided and the others are headed for 12 schools in six states.

Jeff Miller and John Halley of the North squad and Steve Howell and Larry Hisle of the South will be opposing each other Saturday. But they'll be teammates on the Bucks' freshman team this winter.

Miller, a 6-foot-5 All-Ohio performer from Lima Shawnee, is expected to be the Yankees' big offensive gun against the Rebels.

Hisle, 6-2 and from Portsmouth, also is an outstanding baseball player, and figures to play both sports at Ohio State.

Halley, 6-2, is from Vermilion, and Howell, Columbus Eastmoor's rugged 6-5 forward, is counted on to give the Buckeyes needed board strength.

The South's Bob Arnzen, a 6-5 ace who starred for Cincinnati St. Xavier, is going to Notre Dame.

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight champion Emile Griffith steps up into the middleweight class again on July 13 when he will meet Joe Gonzalez, a rugged 160-pounder, at Madison Square Garden, in a non-title 10-rounder. Griffith accepted the bout Wednesday.

St. Paul Open Gets Started

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The top 10 money winners and the also-rans of pro golf set out after the $20,000 first prize in the 72-hole St. Paul Open Golf Tournament today.

On the docile Keller municipal course, the question will not be whether a sub-par score will win it but how much under par. Most of the pros predicted after a pro-amateur warmup Wednesday that a score of around 272 would cash first money.

Chuck Courtney won with that total last year, 12 under par for the four 18-hole rounds. The 6,702-yard course plays par of 36-35-71.

Arnold Palmer, entered for the first time since 1958, continued to complain of putting woes. He and Nicklaus put in a session on the practice green with Phil Rodgers Wednesday.

Circleville Youth, 19, Wins Junior Golf Title

Helwagon swept Class A honors Wednesday with a sizzling three-under par 69 for a 36-hole total of 143, four strokes better than his nearest challenger.

Tim Reardon, 15, of Columbus copped the Class B crown for boys 15 and under, when he shot a 75 for a 153 total.

Helwagon registered five birdies and only two bogies in his final round over the Lancaster Country Club's 6,382-yard course.

Bob Small of Franklin posted a 73 for runnerup honors with a 147 total.

Florida Girls Face Ex-Champs In Golf

Roberta Albers of the University of Miami tackles defending champion Patti Shook of Valparaiso, Ind. University, while Rhonda Glenn of Palm Beach Junior College takes on Carol Sorenson, from Arizona State, the 1962 tourney winner.

All but Miss Glenn had an easy time in Wednesday's quarter-finals.

National Hockey Loop To Discuss Expansion

NEW YORK (AP) — The six-team National Hockey League meets today and Friday to discuss expansion, with the strong likelihood that no cities will be immediately added.

"I do not think any new cities will be made public," said NHL President Clarence Campbell.

The meeting is a special gathering of the NHL Board of Governors made up of the owners of each club. Cities in the NHL now are Montreal, Toronto, Boston, New York, Detroit and Chicago.

Ohio U. Golfer Tied

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Bob Littler Jr. of Ohio University was locked in a five-way tie for fourth place after the first round of the National Collegiate Golf Tournament Wednesday.

Marty Fleckman of Houston was the leader with a five-under-par 67. George McManis of Cincinnati shot a 72.

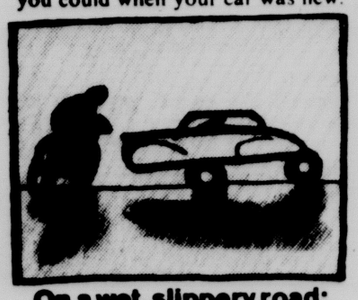
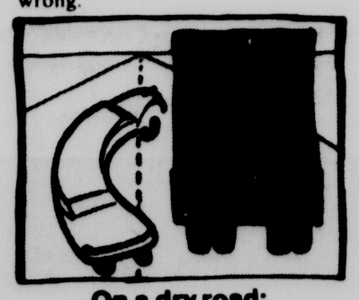
Please don't ask us to sell you just one
rain tire™
We say this for your own good.
With a set of rain tires on your car, you'll be able to stop 30% shorter on a rain-slicked road than you could when your car was new.


On a wet, slippery road: 30% shorter stops.
(That's how much difference there is between the rain tire and the tires that originally came with the '64, '63 or '62 cars. If you own a '61 or earlier car, the improvement will be even more dramatic.)
With a set of rain tires, you'll hold the road 50% better on a wet curve than you could when your car was new.
With a set of rain tires, you'll have 20% better traction when you accelerate on a wet surface than you had when your car was new.
So if you put four rain tires on your car, you've got the most there is. (If you're not ready for four, even two on your rear wheels will make a marked difference.)

On a wet curve: 50% more skid resistance.
But if you buy only one, you're doing yourself and the rain tire an injustice. Because the tire on the opposite wheel won't give you the same kind of traction. And if you should stop suddenly on a wet, treacherous surface and the tire on one side of the car grips better than the tire on the other, you're liable to swerve.
Having a set of rain tires on your car makes a lot of sense even when it isn't raining.
Because on a dry road, you will have even better control in passing or cornering than you had when your car was new.
Other side benefits: Less wander when you drive down a straight road at 70 or 80. Practically no "trolley tracking" when you ride in and out of an expansion strip on the highway. About 10% longer wearing than our 1964 first-line tire.
If this tire sounds just too good to be true, and you expect to have to pay the price in quietness or in smoothness (or in money), you're wrong.


On a dry road: surer control when you pass or corner.
It comes as Original Equipment on some of the most prestigious 1965 cars. Which means that it has to be quiet and smooth-riding, because there's nobody with a more sensitive bottom than the test drivers who evaluate the new models in Detroit.

The ride: So quiet and smooth, it's original equipment on many '65s.
The price of the rain tire is as reassuring as the tire itself: about the same price as any other leading maker's first-line tire.
The official name of the rain tire is the "U.S. Royal Laredo." None genuine without.
So don't give our salesman a hard time if the tire he brings out says Laredo.
Give him a hard time if it doesn't.
And please, for your own sake, make sure he brings out at least two.

Mrs. Fitton Of Hamilton Golf Favorite

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. John Fitton of Hamilton, at 31 the eldest of four golfers to survive quarter - final play Wednesday in the Ohio Women's Amateur Golf Tournament, today was considered the favorite to win the state championship.

Mrs. Fitton played even par during Wednesday morning's round and was one under par after 13 holes in the afternoon as she defeated Mrs. James Pickrel of Dayton, 6-and 5, in match play.

The other semifinalists, all teen-agers, are Miss Judy Rand, 18, of Cleveland, Miss Pam Higgins, 19, of Columbus, and Miss Bonnie Sue Andrie, 18, of Mount Vernon.

Miss Rand, the 1961 champion, ousted Miss Sue Leimgruber of Cleveland, 4 and 3. Miss Higgins downed former champion Mrs. Donald Peppard of Canton, 1 up, and Miss Andrie turned back Mrs. James Pickrel of Dayton, 6 and 5.

Miss Higgins meets Miss Rand and Miss Andrie plays Mrs. Fitton today in an 18-hole semifinal round over the 6,240-yard Zanesville Country Club course. The two finalists play 36 holes Friday.

In Wednesday's first round, Miss Peppard, champion in 1958 and 1959, eliminated the defending champion, Mrs. Wallace McArthur of Ashtabula, 2 and 1.

Another former titlist, Mrs. John B. Whitacre of Canton, the 1962 queen, fell to Miss Rand, 4 and 3.

Miss Lida Fee Matthews of Portsmouth, the medalist in Monday's qualifying round, put up a gallant fight but was ousted by Miss Andrie, 1 up, in 19 holes.

St. Paul Open Gets Started

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The top 10 money winners and the also-rans of pro golf set out after the $20,000 first prize in the 72-hole St. Paul Open Golf Tournament today.

On the docile Keller municipal course, the question will not be whether a sub-par score will win it but how much under par. Most of the pros predicted after a pro-amateur warmup Wednesday that a score of around 272 would cash first money.

Chuck Courtney won with that total last year, 12 under par for the four 18-hole rounds. The 6,702-yard course plays par of 36-35—71.

Arnold Palmer, entered for the first time since 1958, continued to complain of putting woes. He and Nicklaus put in a session on the practice green with Phil Rodgers Wednesday.

Circleville Youth, 19, Wins Junior Golf Title

Helwagon swept Class A honors Wednesday with a sizzling three-under par 69 for a 36-hole total of 143, four strokes better than his nearest challenger.

Tim Reardon, 15, of Columbus copped the Class B crown for boys 15 and under, when he shot a 75 for a 153 total.

Helwagon registered five birdies and only two bogies in his final round over the Lancaster Country Club's 6,382-yard course.

Bob Small of Franklin posted a 73 for runnerup honors with a 147 total.

Florida Girls Face Ex-Champs In Golf

Roberta Albers of the University of Miami tackles defending champion Patti Shook of Valparaiso, Ind. University, while Rhonda Glenn of Palm Beach Junior College takes on Carol Sorenson, from Arizona State, the 1962 tourney winner.

All but Miss Glenn had an easy time in Wednesday's quarter-finals.

National Hockey Loop To Discuss Expansion

NEW YORK (AP) — The six-team National Hockey League meets today and Friday to discuss expansion, with the strong likelihood that no cities will be immediately added.

"I do not think any new cities will be made public," said NHL President Clarence Campbell.

The meeting is a special gathering of the NHL Board of Governors made up of the owners of each club. Cities in the NHL now are Montreal, Toronto, Boston, New York, Detroit and Chicago.

Ohio U. Golfer Tied

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Bob Littler Jr. of Ohio University was locked in a five-way tie for fourth place after the first round of the National Collegiate Golf Tournament Wednesday.

Marty Fleckman of Houston was the leader with a five-under-par 67. George McManis of Cincinnati shot a 72.

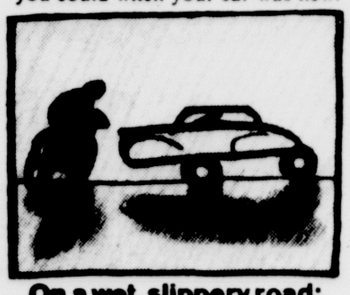
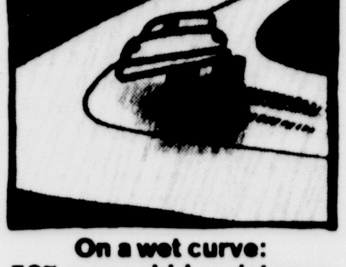
rain tire™
We say this for your own good. With a set of rain tires on your car, you'll be able to stop 30% shorter on a rain-slicked road than you could when your car was new.


On a wet, slippery road: 30% shorter stops.
(That's how much difference there is between the rain tire and the tires that originally came with the '64, '63 or '62 cars. If you own a '61 or earlier car, the improvement will be even more dramatic.)
With a set of rain tires, you'll hold the road 50% better on a wet curve than you could when your car was new.
With a set of rain tires, you'll have 20% better traction when you accelerate on a wet surface than you had when your car was new.
So if you put four rain tires on your car, you've got the most there is. (If you're not ready for four, even two on your rear wheels will make a marked difference.)


On a wet curve: 50% more skid resistance.
But if you buy only one, you're doing yourself and the rain tire an injustice. Because the tire on the opposite wheel won't give you the same kind of traction. And if you should stop suddenly on a wet, treacherous surface and the tire on one side of the car grips better than the tire on the other, you're liable to swerve.
Having a set of rain tires on your car makes a lot of sense even when it isn't raining.
Because on a dry road, you will have even better control in passing or cornering than you had when your car was new.
Other side benefits: Less wander when you drive down a straight road at 70 or 80. Practically no "trolley tracking" when you ride in and out of an expansion strip on the highway. About 10% longer wearing than our 1964 first-line tire.
If this tire sounds just too good to be true, and you expect to have to pay the price in quietness or in smoothness (or in money), you're wrong.

On a dry road: surer control when you pass or corner.
It comes as Original Equipment on some of the most prestigious 1965 cars. Which means that it has to be quiet and smooth-riding, because there's nobody with a more sensitive bottom than the test drivers who evaluate the new models in Detroit.

The ride: So quiet and smooth, it's original equipment on many '65s.
The price of the rain tire is as reassuring as the tire itself: about the same price as any other leading maker's first-line tire.
The official name of the rain tire is the "U.S. Royal Laredo." None genuine without.
So don't give our salesman a hard time if the tire he brings out says Laredo.
Give him a hard time if it doesn't.
And please, for your own sake, make sure he brings out at least two.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was married last December and have just learned that we will be having a child in several months.

This evening my husband said in a matter-of-fact tone, "Of course we will save money on doctor bills because my father will see you through the pregnancy and deliver the baby."

I became thoroughly unhinged by this suggestion. I told my husband I'm very fond of his father and that I respect his competence as a physician but because of the intimacy of this type of relationship I could not bring myself to go to him as a patient.

My husband says I'm immature and that his father will be hurt if we engage another physician. Who is right and who is wrong? You are going to decide for us.—WISCONSIN READER.

Dear Reader: The relationship between a woman and her obstetrician is a very special one. The choice should be yours, and yours alone.

If your husband is a "leaner" (and I suspect he is) it would be unwise to get his father into the act for still another reason. A young man should not be haunted by the fear that he couldn't even bring a child into the world without his father's help.

Tall Tale Teller

Dear Ann: My oldest daughter who is 12 has developed a terrible habit of lying. She makes up tall tales about herself, her friends and her family. As a rule they are not stories that would hurt anyone, but they are lies nonetheless.

I've tried reasoning with her, taking away privileges and spanking her. It's like talking to a rock. I'm afraid my three younger daughters will pick up her habit of lying if something isn't done soon.

Why must a 12-year-old be the center of attraction wherever she goes? This girl believes she must be first in all things. Please don't tell me she has had too much attention and is spoiled. My children came very close together and no child received more attention or love than another. I treat them all the same.

I'm at my wits end trying to deal with this lying girl. Can you help me? — PUZZLED MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Chronic lying is a symptom of insecurity. Your daughter lies because she feels unloved and unimportant. She is trying to build herself by telling startling stories.

Your hostility toward the girl and your defensiveness about your feelings is apparent in your letter.

I suggest that you get professional help. Perhaps when you learn why you feel as you do, your attitude toward her will improve and she will stop lying.

Family Quarrel

Dear Ann: My brother and his wife and my sister and her husband have had a falling out.

The six of us used to have a lot of fun together. We never had a party without them.

Now my sister refuses to come to our home if our brother and his wife have been invited. My brother's wife feels the same way about them.

My husband and I have tried everything to persuade these four to be friends again but we can't get to first base. My husband says to invite them all and act as if nothing happened. What do you say? —ASUNDERSVILLE.

Dear Asundersville: Since you are aware that these people don't want to be together, why try to force a situation which will make four people uncomfortable? Invite them separately.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Father's Leniency Causes Problems

From my observations and the letters I have received over the years, I get the impression that the mother is more strict, as a rule, than the father. Now and then a letter describes the father as the more lenient and indulgent. The following letter from an Ohio mother of three children — six, four and two — is an example: "The problem concerns Tommy. Ever since he was big enough to walk he's broken everything he plays with. Even his good toys, that he likes, end up in pieces. He breaks the girls' toys and has the attitude you can always buy more.

Dr. Garry Myers

"I have made it clear I won't buy anything new. His father, however, gets him about anything he really wants. This includes a comic book every time he runs to the drugstore or expensive things for special occasions. I feel that if he had to do without, he'd change but even with what he has, he grumps around that he doesn't have anything to do or play with.

"HE'S IN kindergarten two hours a morning and as soon as he eats he thinks someone has to be here playing or else he at someone's house.

"If I tell him he can't go away he gets mad at me and acts terrible. He's forever bothering his oldest sister (she's four) and making her cry (which she'll do at the slightest hit or when a toy is taken) and seems to want to get into trouble.

"He gets as much attention as I can give him and in the evening his father plays on the floor with him. They play games, exercises and army stunts. They bike-ride together and as long as Tommy's doing what he wants, he's okay. My husband thinks I yell at the boy too much. But I don't think it's fair to him or the girls to overrun them or be destructive.

"My husband is too lenient with his correction and won't back me up in correcting Tommy. I feel if I am wrong he should back me up in order to make our boy know he has to obey. I spank him if he doesn't listen or breaks things.

"IF HE'S really bad his father will spank him, but very seldom. Tommy thinks I'm a witch and when he gets punished he says he hates me. Some days it seems I do nothing but correct him and it gets on my nerves. It seems I have no patience left.

"I feel he's allowed enough leeway as he plays with two or three different families each afternoon, usually here. He gets to do a lot more than most kids including movies, circus, vacation, and the like."

My reply in part:

It's fine that Dad romps and plays and goes bike-riding with that boy. Fine, too, the lad has much fun with other boys, presumably of his age. He hardly can be a good playmate for his little sisters much of the time. They need more playmates of their ages.

I'm sure you are right in trying to curb destructiveness in this boy and restrain him from tyrannizing over his little sisters. No doubt Dad is right in saying you yell at this boy too much. But he's dead wrong in buying many things for this boy, and in not backing you up in requiring the boy to obey you in Dad's presence.

BUT I think you err in supposing this boy could learn to be careful of things if he were deprived of them after deliberately breaking one. You say you scold and spank him when he does so, but, apparently, your spanking is as mild as a fleabite, done inconsistently and only when your angry shouting does not curb him.

You would be angered by this lad less and also less tempted to shout at him if you found ways to make your commands infrequent and more effective. If you never repeated "no" or "don't" but always followed it immediately with effective physical discomfort to him and made such words final, you might get better results.

Make him sit unamused for thirty minutes, instead of spanking him. Paddle him soundly if he got down too soon. As you derived better control of the boy, Dad might choose to stiffen up with him, and the boy might feel less resentful of you.

Sit down with Dad in private when you feel very calm and lovely and try to work out with him a more effective way of controlling this boy and of enjoying him more. Once he discovered he stood as well with you as his little sisters do, he would feel more worthy in the family, less jealous of them and less antagonistic to you. See that the girls don't mess up his things and impose on him.

Ike To Be Highlight Of 2-Day GOP Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A speech by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will be a highlight of a two-day meeting of the Republican National Committee here next week.

National Chairman Ray C. Bliss announced Wednesday that Eisenhower would address a luncheon meeting next Monday. It will be the first time the national committee has met since Bliss became chairman Jan. 22.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: When my young sons began taking towels from home to the gym and to the swimming pool, I was always missing my better towels.

Meanwhile the gym teacher had a barrel of unclaimed towels, and strange ones were left in our car by unknown children, from trips to the city pools.

I solved my problem by buying several white towels, writing the child's name on the border of each towel and embroidering it with colored, boilfast floss, such as hotels do.

Through junior high, high school, college, eight years of basketball trips and summer camp, we have never lost one towel since I started using this method.

Some of our grown children are still using these towels when they go bowling.

I think this was one of the best ideas I ever had.

MRS. A. B. OATHOUT.

DEAR HELOISE: Swimming suits have a way of becoming faded long before the material is worn out.

I use a felt tip marker to touch up these faded places. It works especially well on black. The chlorine in the water doesn't faze it.

MRS. DARRYLL JOHNSON.

DEAR HELOISE: Our cocker spaniel is house - broken, but once in awhile he "forgets" himself, or just can't make it to his little box.

Yesterday was one of those times.

Please help! I can't afford a new carpet.

EMMA.

DEAR EMMA: Some dyes in carpets are ruined instantly from pet stains and probably nothing can be done.

Treat immediately. The stains can affect fibers and dyes. Blot up as much as possible with towels, pressing hard to remove moisture.

Sponge repeatedly with clear water. Blot again.

Apply a solution of one part white vinegar and two parts water. Blot thoroughly. Then sponge with neutral detergent and water solution, if necessary, and blot dry again.

Place a folded, dry, white towel over stain and weight down with heavy book. Leave a day or two, changing towel when it becomes wet or stained. This is most important.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: The only thing wrong with artichokes is that my heart chokes when I see the price on the jar!

BUDGETEER.

DEAR BUDGETEER: Next time you buy a bottle of artichokes, SAVE the liquid stuff that is left after you eat the artichokes. Keep it refrigerated.

Buy frozen artichokes in a package. Do not cook quite as long as the directions say. After they are thoroughly cooled, place these precious tidbits in your bottle of artichoke liquor.

This way, your artichokes will be much cheaper and you will save on your budget.

ANOTHER BUDGETEER.

P.S.: I always add a tablespoon or so of vinegar when doing this. Why not make them pickled? They're delicious.

DEAR HELOISE: A piece of tape sewed across the top of a lady's slip will reinforce it so the shoulder straps cannot tear the slip. Just reinforce it from side seam to side seam.

Helen Keller, Nearing 85, Enjoys Quiet, Gentle Life

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — As Helen Keller approaches her 85th birthday, she's enjoying a quiet and gentle life.

She has her flowers, her garden, her dog Tinker, and the birds.

"All of the birds are her friends," says a close companion of the blind and deaf author.

"Miss Helen is living in retirement," a friend says. "That covers it."

The world still beats a path to her country home at Arcan Ridge, only to find the doors politely, but firmly, shut.

But close friends and neighbors stop in occasionally for tea, and there will be cake and champagne when she observes her birthday Sunday at home.

Miss Keller's traveling days are just about over. She still receives awards, but doesn't make the trips to pick them up.

Requests come from throughout the world to the American Foundation for the Blind for visits with Miss Keller, who has devoted most of her lifetime to helping the handicapped. The requests are turned down.

A friend says Miss Keller is in the best of health for a woman of 85, although her vitality is waning. In the past two or three years she has given up most of her writing and all public speaking. She takes frequent rests, and devotes much of her time to reading and re-reading books she enjoyed in her youth.

Sunday's celebration will be more or less a family affair. Miss Keller's brother, Phillips Brooks Keller of Dallas, Tex., will be on hand. Her sister, Mrs. L. Warren Tyson of Montgomery, Ala., plans a visit later in the summer.

An illness 19 months after Miss Keller's birth in Tuscumbia, Ala., left her blind and deaf. Through the efforts of her teacher, Anne Sullivan, Miss Keller was transported from a world of silence and dark rage to one of communication and faith.

Also installed were James Knox, lion tamer; Squire John D. Herron and George Davis, two - year directors, and Edwin Flowers and William Murray, one - year directors.

The installation was conducted by Squire Herron, district governor - elect.

In other business, the Board of Directors announced it has pledged $100 toward the Sight Conservation Drive and another $25 to the Hancock County 4-H Scholarship Foundation.

It also was disclosed to the 25 members attending that plans are progressing for the club's annual free fair Aug. 26-28 in New Cumberland.

The Board of Directors will meet July 13 and the club's family picnic is scheduled for July 27.

U.S. Claims Building Will Be Art Gallery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The old U.S. Court of Claims building across from the White House will be renovated and turned into a government art gallery.

President Johnson Wednesday signed a document to transfer the 96-year-old building to the Smithsonian Institution.

The red sandstone landmark, which is next to Blair House, where distinguished foreign visitors stay, was the original home of the Corcoran Gallery of Art. The government took it over in 1901.

The crumb topping on coffee cake may be made with either flour or fine dry bread crumbs plus butter or margarine and sugar. Either white or brown sugar may be used.

Democrats To Hold Fund-Raising Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Johnson as the top attraction, more than 8,000 Democrats are paying $100-a-plate tonight for a dinner to swell the party's campaign treasury.

Johnson, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Democratic congressional leaders will shuttle from the National Guard Armory to the new Washington Hilton Hotel to address diners at both halls.

Proceeds are earmarked for 1966 Democratic congressional campaigns. Ticket sales have already grossed a record $800,000, officials said, topping the previous high of $640,000 for an affair of this type last May.

U.S. Claims Building Will Be Art Gallery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The old U.S. Court of Claims building across from the White House will be renovated and turned into a government art gallery.

President Johnson Wednesday signed a document to transfer the 96-year-old building to the Smithsonian Institution.

The red sandstone landmark, which is next to Blair House, where distinguished foreign visitors stay, was the original home of the Corcoran Gallery of Art. The government took it over in 1901.

The crumb topping on coffee cake may be made with either flour or fine dry bread crumbs plus butter or margarine and sugar. Either white or brown sugar may be used.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Father's Leniency Causes Problems

From my observations and the letters I have received over the years, I get the impression that the mother is more strict, as a rule, than the father. Now and then a letter describes the father as the more lenient and indulgent. The following letter from an Ohio mother of three children — six, four and two — is an example: "The problem concerns Tommy. Ever since he was big enough to walk he's broken everything he plays with. Even his good toys, that he likes, end up in pieces. He breaks the girls' toys and has the attitude you can always buy more.

Dr. Garry Myers

"I have made it clear I won't buy anything new. His father, however, gets him about anything he really wants. This includes a comic book every time he runs to the drugstore or expensive things for special occasions. I feel that if he had to do without, he'd change but even with what he has, he grumps around that he doesn't have anything to do or play with.

"HE'S IN kindergarten two hours a morning and as soon as he eats he thinks someone has to be here playing or else he at someone's house.

"If I tell him he can't go away he gets mad at me and acts terrible. He's forever bothering his oldest sister (she's four) and making her cry (which she'll do at the slightest hit or when a toy is taken) and seems to want to get into trouble.

"He gets as much attention as I can give him and in the evening his father plays on the floor with him. They play games, exercises and army stunts. They bike-ride together and as long as Tommy's doing what he wants, he's okay. My husband thinks I yell at the boy too much. But I don't think it's fair to him or the girls to overrun them or be destructive.

"My husband is too lenient with his correction and won't back me up in correcting Tommy. I feel if I am wrong he should back me up in order to make our boy know he has to obey. I spank him if he doesn't listen or breaks things.

"IF HE'S really bad his father will spank him, but very seldom. Tommy thinks I'm a witch and when he gets punished he says he hates me. Some days it seems I do nothing but correct him and it gets on my nerves. It seems I have no patience left.

"I feel he's allowed enough leeway as he plays with two or three different families each afternoon, usually here. He gets to do a lot more than most kids including movies, circus, vacation, and the like."

My reply in part:

It's fine that Dad romps and plays and goes bike-riding with that boy. Fine, too, the lad has much fun with other boys, presumably of his age. He hardly can be a good playmate for his little sisters much of the time. They need more playmates of their ages.

I'm sure you are right in trying to curb destructiveness in this boy and restrain him from tyrannizing over his little sisters. No doubt Dad is right in saying you yell at this boy too much. But he's dead wrong in buying many things for this boy, and in not backing you up in requiring the boy to obey you in Dad's presence.

BUT I think you err in supposing this boy could learn to be careful of things if he were deprived of them after deliberately breaking one. You say you scold and spank him when he does so, but, apparently, your spanking is as mild as a flea-bite, done inconsistently and only when your angry shouting does not curb him.

You would be angered by this lad less and also less tempted to shout at him if you found ways to make your commands infrequent and more effective. If you never repeated "no" or "don't" but always followed it immediately with effective physical discomfort to him and made such words final, you might get better results.

Make him sit unamused for thirty minutes, instead of spanking him. Paddle him soundly if he got down too soon. As you derived better control of the boy, Dad might choose to stiffen up with him, and the boy might feel less resentful of you.

Sit down with Dad in private when you feel very calm and lovely and try to work out with him a more effective way of controlling this boy and of enjoying him more. Once he discovered he stood as well with you as his little sisters do, he would feel more worthy in the family, less jealous of them and less antagonistic to you. See that the girls don't mess up his things and impose on him.

Ike To Be Highlight Of 2-Day GOP Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A speech by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will be a highlight of a two-day meeting of the Republican National Committee here next week.

National Chairman Ray C. Bliss announced Wednesday that Eisenhower would address a luncheon meeting next Monday. It will be the first time the national committee has met since Bliss became chairman Jan. 22.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: When my young sons began taking towels from home to the gym and to the swimming pool, I was always missing my better towels.

Meanwhile the gym teacher had a barrel of unclaimed towels, and strange ones were left in our car by unknown children, from trips to the city pools.

I solved my problem by buying several white towels, writing the child's name on the border of each towel and embroidering it with colored, boilfast floss, such as hotels do.

Through junior high, high school, college, eight years of basketball trips and summer camp, we have never lost one towel since I started using this method.

Some of our grown children are still using these towels when they go bowling.

I think this was one of the best ideas I ever had.

MRS. A. B. OATHOUT.

DEAR HELOISE: Swimming suits have a way of becoming faded long before the material is worn out.

I use a felt tip marker to touch up these faded places. It works especially well on black. The chlorine in the water doesn't faze it.

MRS. DARRYLL JOHNSON.

DEAR HELOISE: Our cocker spaniel is house - broken, but once in awhile he "forgets" himself, or just can't make it to his little box.

Yesterday was one of those times.

Please help! I can't afford a new carpet.

EMMA.

DEAR EMMA: Some dyes in carpets are ruined instantly from pet stains and probably nothing can be done.

Treat immediately. The stains can affect fibers and dyes. Blot up as much as possible with towels, pressing hard to remove moisture.

Sponge repeatedly with clear water. Blot again.

Apply a solution of one part white vinegar and two parts water. Blot thoroughly. Then sponge with neutral detergent and water solution, if necessary, and blot dry again.

Place a folded, dry, white towel over stain and weight down with heavy book. Leave a day or two, changing towel when it becomes wet or stained. This is most important.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: The only thing wrong with artichokes is that my heart chokes when I see the price on the jar!

BUDGETEER.

DEAR BUDGETEER: Next time you buy a bottle of artichokes, SAVE the liquid stuff that is left after you eat the artichokes. Keep it refrigerated.

Buy frozen artichokes in a package. Do not cook quite as long as the directions say. After they are thoroughly cooled, place these precious tidbits in your bottle of artichoke liquor.

This way, your artichokes will be much cheaper and you will save on your budget.

ANOTHER BUDGETEER.

P.S.: I always add a tablespoon or so of vinegar when doing this. Why not make them pickled? They're delicious.

DEAR HELOISE: A piece of tape sewed across the top of a lady's slip will reinforce it so the shoulder straps cannot tear the slip. Just reinforce it from side seam to side seam.

Helen Keller, Nearing 85, Enjoys Quiet, Gentle Life

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — As Helen Keller approaches her 85th birthday, she's enjoying a quiet and gentle life.

She has her flowers, her garden, her dog Tinker, and the birds.

"All of the birds are her friends," says a close companion of the blind and deaf author.

The world still beats a path to her country home at Arcan Ridge, only to find the doors politely, but firmly, shut.

But close friends and neighbors stop in occasionally for tea, and there will be cake and champagne when she observes her birthday Sunday at home.

Miss Keller's traveling days are just about over. She still receives awards, but doesn't make the trips to pick them up.

Requests come from throughout the world to the American Foundation for the Blind for visits with Miss Keller, who has devoted most of her lifetime to helping the handicapped. The requests are turned down.

A friend says Miss Keller is in the best of health for a woman of 85, although her vitality is waning. In the past two or three years she has given up most of her writing and all public speaking. She takes frequent rests, and devotes much of her time to reading and re-reading books she enjoyed in her youth.

Sunday's celebration will be more or less a family affair. Miss Keller's brother, Phillips Brooks Keller of Dallas, Tex., will be on hand. Her sister, Mrs. L. Warren Tyson of Montgomery, Ala., plans a visit later in the summer.

Democrats To Hold Fund-Raising Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Johnson as the top attraction, more than 8,000 Democrats are paying $100-a-plate tonight for a dinner to swell the party's campaign treasury.

Johnson, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Democratic congressional leaders will shuttle from the National Guard Armory to the new Washington Hilton Hotel to address diners at both halls.

Proceeds are earmarked for 1966 Democratic congressional campaigns. Ticket sales have already grossed a record $800,000, officials said, topping the previous high of $640,000 for an affair of this type last May.

74-A Automobiles For Rent

A A DEALER needs cars and pickups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,595 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. — There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

P. S. PARTS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY or on tap within 24 hours. STARTING JUNE 20TH Service almost immediately. Call Mr. Charles Coen, you local man from Wellsville and our service manager or Mr. Earl King, parts manager for more information.

74-A Automobiles For Rent

A A DEALER needs cars and pickups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,595 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. — There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

P. S. PARTS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY or on tap within 24 hours. STARTING JUNE 20TH Service almost immediately. Call Mr. Charles Coen, you local man from Wellsville and our service manager or Mr. Earl King, parts manager for more information.

A Junior Editors Quiz About PORPOISES

QUESTION: Do porpoises actually talk to each other?

ANSWER: Porpoises or dolphins, have been receiving a lot of attention in the last few years. This is mostly because they are so gay and amusing when exhibited in tanks. They seem to love to have human beings looking at them. They play games with each other and with the spectators and learn to do amazing tricks. Their learning ability is said to be next to that of the chimpanzee. This gives porpoises a very high rating in animal intelligence, and with this in mind, scientists have been studying them carefully. There is one scientist who has been experimenting to see if there might be an animal capable of enough training so that the two might communicate by various sounds. He has studied them in special tanks, wired so he can pick up sounds. This student tells us that porpoises do make sounds, whistles, clicks, barks and so on. He reports that they do seem to carry on conversations of buzzing and whistling sounds between each other. Exactly what the porpoises are saying to each other this scientists does not tell us, but he seems convinced that they do communicate together in some manner by way of sound.

FOR YOU TO DO: Listen to a cat purring to its kittens or listen to birds calling and see if you don't agree that animals communicate together. But these signals are not talk, as we talk. Are the porpoises just signaling each other, or do they really talk? We don't know, but some day we may find out.

Substitute Resolution Offered

AMA's Decision Awaited On Boycott Of Medicare

NEW YORK (AP) — The policy-making doctors of the American Medical Association decide today whether to urge their fellow physicians to boycott Medicare, or whether to delay a decision on the issue.

The situation in the House of Delegates of the AMA regarding the various boycott resolutions came close to a climax Wednesday — after a high-level legislative committee suggested a compromise resolution. But time ran out.

The substitute resolution was offered by the reference committee on legislation and public relations, a key AMA policy committee. It had heard 80 witnesses in two days of hearings, and had received a number of written pleas.

It offered this resolution: "That when the fate of the pending Medicare legislation is determined, this house will review, in special session if necessary, the effect of the law and take whatever action is deemed necessary."

The Medicare bill — backed by the Johnson administration — has passed the House, and has apparently cleared its most serious hurdles in the Senate prior to a vote. Medicare is hospital and nursing home care for the aged financed through Social Security.

Nine resolutions asking in one way or another that doctors not participate in Medicare or similar government health programs were offered by Arizona, Florida, South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, Nebraska, Texas and Connecticut delegations, and one individual doctor — John K. Glen of Houston, Tex., a pediatrician.

AMA President James Z. Appel has told the group his personal feeling was that doctors should follow the law of the land and have no right to ignore it even if Medicare is passed.

The AMA has spent several million dollars fighting the Medicare proposal and similar ones in earlier years. In the first three months of this year, it reported its lobbying expenses in Washington at over $950,000.

The doctors generally contend that Medicare would introduce government into the doctor-patient relationship, and this would interfere with high quality medical care.

HURON, Ohio (AP)—A 4-year-old Huron boy drowned Wednesday near his father's boat house on the Huron River here. The victim was Stephen Hider whose body was found in about three feet of water.

Citizens Drug At Chester

Store Has Grand Opening

Owner-manager of the new $50,000 establishment is George E. Manolakis, right, who was also owner and manager of the old Citizens Drugstore at 448 Carolina Ave.

In addition to the $50,000 expended for the building and the lot, Manolakis estimated the cost of internal fixtures at $18,000 and the merchandise inventory at $45,000. The store covers 3,600 square feet of floor space.

Construction was begun in February by Floyd Cox of the Campground Rd., general contractor. Robert Beatty of East Liverpool was the architect.

The new store was planned and merchandised by Walgreen through Taylor, 29, of Greensburg, Pa. Taylor has been with Walgreen since 1958 and is a graduate of the University of Illinois. Citizens is the first drugstore in the immediate area to become affiliated with the Walgreen agency division.

Manolakis is a registered pharmacist in three states — Ohio, West Virginis and Pennsylvania — and is a 1957 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh.

He served in the Army Medical Corps for two years before becoming manager of the Thrift Drugstore in Allentown, Pa., from 1960-61.

He went to Steubenville in 1961 to manage a new Thrift drugstore and then purchased the 40-year-old Citizens Drugstore in Chester in 1962.

He has employed six people at Citizens' new location — Mrs. Evelyn Robinson, Mrs. Wanda Moore, Mrs. Jo Ann Carpenter, Miss Jeannie Jackson, Miss Sharon Brooks and Eddy Sepkoski.

Driver Cited On Speeding

An East Liverpool motorist is scheduled for a Municipal Court hearing Friday on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour Wednesday night on the California Hollow Freeway.

Paul D. Sherman, 304 Washington St., was cited at 6:35 by the State Highway Patrol, which reported he was clocked on the four - lane stretch from its junction with State Route 170 to the north city limits. Sherman said he was "just blowing the carbon out of my car," the patrol said.

Meanwhile, Edward W. Stacey of Post Office Box 195, cited Wednesday at 1:19 p. m. on a charge of speeding 43 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on W. 8th St., was fined $10 and costs today by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after entering a guilty plea. Officers said he was cited by Patrolman Charles A. Winters, using the department's new radar gear.

Ross William Lyle, 19, 728 Oak St., cited June 8 on W. 8th St. on a charge of operating an unsafe car, was fined $10 and costs. Lyle told the court the allegedly unsafe 1950 model car now has been repaired.

The court granted a continuance until July 8 in a second charge against Lyle, alleging that he drove without an operator's permit. Both charges were the result of a State Highway Patrol arrest. Lyle pleaded guilty June 9.

The driver's license case had been continued until today pending Lyle's test to obtain a new permit yesterday at Lisbon. The continuance was granted after Lyle advised the judge he failed the test yesterday but has made an appointment to take the exam again.

1 Killed, 3 Injured In One-Car Mishap

NORTH CANTON, Ohio (AP) —Kennth Ruddock, 17, of North Canton, was killed Wednesday when the car in which he was a passenger skidded on wet pavement and was pierced by a guard rail on Interstate 77 just west of here.

Three other North Canton youths were injured, including the driver, Ralph McCutchen, 18, who was admitted to Timken Mercy Hospital in critical condition.

Lisbon Area Chamber Gets New Officers

LISBON — Charles McKenzie, head of the Farmers National Bank, has been named president of the Lisbon Area Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds Robert A. Williams, who resigned several weeks ago.

Pete Gallo, president of the G & W Mining Co. and vice president of Kuhns Hardware, Inc., was named vice president.

Sam Calhoun has been appointed to serve as a member of the Board of Directors. He operates the Capehart Motel, east of Lisbon.

Williams has accepted the chairmanship of the Industrial Development Committee and expects to remain active in the organization.

Citizens Drug At Chester

Store Has Grand Opening

Owner-manager of the new $50,000 establishment is George E. Manolakis, right, who was also owner and manager of the old Citizens Drugstore at 448 Carolina Ave.

In addition to the $50,000 expended for the building and the lot, Manolakis estimated the cost of internal fixtures at $18,000 and the merchandise inventory at $45,000. The store covers 3,600 square feet of floor space.

Construction was begun in February by Floyd Cox of the Campground Rd., general contractor. Robert Beatty of East Liverpool was the architect.

The new store was planned and merchandised by Walgreen through Taylor, 29, of Greensburg, Pa. Taylor has been with Walgreen since 1958 and is a graduate of the University of Illinois. Citizens is the first drugstore in the immediate area to become affiliated with the Walgreen agency division.

Manolakis is a registered pharmacist in three states — Ohio, West Virginis and Pennsylvania — and is a 1957 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh.

He served in the Army Medical Corps for two years before becoming manager of the Thrift Drugstore in Allentown, Pa., from 1960-61.

He went to Steubenville in 1961 to manage a new Thrift drugstore and then purchased the 40-year-old Citizens Drugstore in Chester in 1962.

He has employed six people at Citizens' new location — Mrs. Evelyn Robinson, Mrs. Wanda Moore, Mrs. Jo Ann Carpenter, Miss Jeannie Jackson, Miss Sharon Brooks and Eddy Sepkoski.

Driver Cited On Speeding

An East Liverpool motorist is scheduled for a Municipal Court hearing Friday on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour Wednesday night on the California Hollow Freeway.

Paul D. Sherman, 304 Washington St., was cited at 6:35 by the State Highway Patrol, which reported he was clocked on the four - lane stretch from its junction with State Route 170 to the north city limits. Sherman said he was "just blowing the carbon out of my car," the patrol said.

Meanwhile, Edward W. Stacey of Post Office Box 195, cited Wednesday at 1:19 p. m. on a charge of speeding 43 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on W. 8th St., was fined $10 and costs today by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after entering a guilty plea. Officers said he was cited by Patrolman Charles A. Winters, using the department's new radar gear.

Ross William Lyle, 19, 728 Oak St., cited June 8 on W. 8th St. on a charge of operating an unsafe car, was fined $10 and costs. Lyle told the court the allegedly unsafe 1950 model car now has been repaired.

The court granted a continuance until July 8 in a second charge against Lyle, alleging that he drove without an operator's permit. Both charges were the result of a State Highway Patrol arrest. Lyle pleaded guilty June 9.

The driver's license case had been continued until today pending Lyle's test to obtain a new permit yesterday at Lisbon. The continuance was granted after Lyle advised the judge he failed the test yesterday but has made an appointment to take the exam again.
